WOODRUFF WON'T TESTIFY

He Will Not Get a Chance to Tell His Fairy Tale on the Witness Stand.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Woodruff is to be disappointed again. The state's attorneys have concluded, after a great deal of argument, that he is not the sort of a witness calculated to help in so important a case as the Cronin trial and he will not be placed on the stand to rehearse the many fairy tales with which he regaled the public. The chances are that he will never be tried for anything more desperate than stealing Dinan's horse and wagon.

The Cronin trial was resumed this morning, with Captain Schuettler in the witness chair. He brought with him into court the blind taken from a window of the Carlson cottage, with the paint prints of a hand on it. The witness was cross-examined by Judge Wing.

The finger marks on the window were made with the same yellow paint with which the floor was smeared. One slat of the blind was broken.

It looked as though some one had attempted to close the blind hurriedly and had not noticed that his hand was covered with paint. Witness found in the cottage a pail or can of paint, and in it a brush. The paint had evidently been exposed to the air for some time. This paint corresponded to that on the floor. Captain Schuettler then related how he took charge of the lock and key and other articles found in the cottage.

On the redirect examination by Mr. Hynes, witness told of the conversation between O'Sullivan and Capt. Schaack, in which he (witness) took part, on May 28, in which O'Sullivan admitted the contract between him and Dr. Cronin and also that he (O'Sullivan) had telephoned Coughlin to inform him about a man named Kunze and a horse. The state's attorney this morning handed Mr. Forrest an additional list of witnesses that the state expects to summon.

O'Sullivan also admitted in this conversation that none of his men had ever been injured and that he had never been sued for damages. O'Sullivan denied positively that he was a member of the Clan-na-Gael. Captain Schuettler stated how he became possessed of the blind and told the history of the hair taken from the trunk. Witness had been given two bunches of hair; one by Dr. Egbert and the other by Captain Wing. Both of these he had given to Dr. Belfield in the same condition that he received them. On the recross-examination by Judge Wing witness went into a detailed history of the key of the trunk.

William Neimann was then called and his evidence created quite a sensation. Neiman's story was that he is a saloon-keeper, on School street and Ashland avenue. He opened his place May 3 and that day made a contract with O'Sullivan for ice. The next evening, May 4, about 10:30 o'clock, O'Sullivan came in, accompanied by two men. They staid about a half an hour.

A MYSTERIOUS TRAMP

Dies in Ohio--May Have Had Some Connection With the Cronin Case.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 8.—A mysterious tramp died of paralysis, Thursday, at the farm house of J. M. Staley, six miles from here. He was an elderly, well educated and intelligent man, claiming to be a school teacher, but would not disclose even his name.

During his dying delirium he made many incoherent references to the Cronin trial and talked about the murder and affairs of the Clan-na-Gael. He carried with him a book pasted full of newspaper clippings in regard to the case. From what could be made out of his talk it is thought that he must have had some connection with it.

A BAD AGENT

Deserts His Wife and Takes His Employer's Money.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 8.—J. A. Shepard, of Chicago, a dealer in crayon portraits, is in Ballston looking for H. K. Chamberlain, who has been acting as his agent in this district. He claims that Chamberlain stole several hundred dollars, collected for work done by the firm. Chamberlain took many orders for portraits and spent money freely.

In September he was married, after an acquaintance of a few days, to Miss Bertha Freeman, an employe of the St. Charles hotel, in Baltimore, and after living with her three weeks, disappeared and has not been seen since. It is said that he has other wives living. Papers for his arrest are in the hands of officers.

BURGLARS' WORK.

The Residence of Mr. J. H. W. Schaefer Entered by Thieves.

Last night the residence of Mr. John H. W. Schaefer, in Bloomingdale, between High and Third streets, was entered by burglars. They first got into the kitchen through a rear window, and then, by breaking the lock of a door that led into the dining room, were enabled to gain access to other parts of the house.

In the front room Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer were sleeping, all unconscious of the presence of the slick rascals in the house. The thieves entered this room, and taking Mr. Schaefer's clothes from a chair, carried them to the kitchen, where at their leisure they rifled the pockets, securing his pocketbook, containing a $5 bill and a Holland guilder, worth about 40 cents. These they appropriated to their own use and then effected their escape, and when Mr. Schaefer awoke this morning he discovered his loss.

There is no clue to the thieves.

D. McCarty, who resides at 160 West Superior street, says thieves entered his premises last night and stole twenty-six fine specimens of poultry. Mr. McCarty runs on the Nickel Plate, and was out at the time. He says the thieves can have the chicken-coop and everything that is left if they will only come when he is at home.

A PROBABLE MURDER.

William Lepker Affronted With a Charge of Fearful Assault.

William Lepker, the man who was arrested by Officer Patton yesterday for the theft of a coat and other wearing apparel from Kraus, the truckman, and who was sentenced for one year by Judge O'Rourke, stands a chance of being re-arrested upon the expiration of his sentence, by the sheriff of Paulding county, Ohio. The charge then will probably be murder. The officer, when in the city last night, identified Lepker as being the man who assaulted and robbed a man named DeLand, at Paulding, Ohio, recently. The dastardly work was done under the cover of darkness. Lepker struck the man over the head with a stick of wood until his victim was unconscious, then he secured $25.00 and fled.

DeLand was found in the early morning, blood flowing from the numerous wounds. He is in a critical condition and may die, in which event Lepker will pay the penalty.

FELL DOWN STAIRS.

Mr. Christian Bleeke is Severely Injured--Another Accident.

Mr. Christian Bleeke is an old gentleman, eighty-nine years of age, and lives with his daughter, Mrs. William Baade, 263 East Jefferson street.

Last night he started up stairs to retire to his bed, and when about half way up the stairway fell and struck his head upon the bannister. When found within a moment afterward, he was lying at the bottom of the stairs, suffering severely from a concussion of the brain. Dr. Boswell was called and attended Mr. Bleeke's injuries, which are of such a nature as to confine him to his bed. His extreme age is against his recovery.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Ruhl, in ascending with the elevator at the Centlivre brewery, caught his right foot between the car and floor and the limb was almost pulled from the ankle joint. As it was it was fearfully crushed and his ankle joint was fractured.

Dr. George L. Greenawalt attends him.

THEY WILL FIGHT.

A Prize Fight Arranged for To-morrow Night at Sheldon.

To-morrow night a crowd of sports will leave this city for Sheldon, where a prize fight has been arranged to take place between Fred Greenberg and Ally York, two well-known pugilists of this city. Greenberg is employed at the Fort Wayne Organ Factory and has been engaged in a number of sparring matches in this city and elsewhere.

York is a good boxer and his friends say he can whip Greenburg. The men will fight with bare knuckles, for a purse of $100, if the authorities do not interfere.

Such encounters are a disgrace to a civilized community, and it is to be hoped the officers will intercept the pugilists and prevent them from fighting. This article is a free advertisement for the pugilists and a notice to the officers that such a mill has been arranged.

Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—For Indiana: Heavy rain; cooler; variable winds.

SNOW STORMS!

A Fearful One Raging in New Mexico, and Death and Suffering is the Result.

CLAYTON, N. M., Nov. 8.—Unless the snowstorm, which has been raging for eight days, comes to an end soon, next summer will show a country covered with the dead bodies of animals as thickly as was the old Santa Fe trail in the sixties. The depth of snow is now not less than twenty-six inches on the level, and in many places it has drifted seven feet high. When the storm struck this section seven large herds of cattle, numbering from four hundred to two thousand, were being held near this place, awaiting shipment to eastern markets.

The rain of a week ago Wednesday was followed Thursday morning by blizzards of snow and sleet, which sent the herds in a southerly direction. In vain did the cowboys try to check the march of the herds. On they went through the increasing storm until, finding it utterly impossible to hold the cattle, the boys rode aside and let them pass, and, nearly dead, rode their exhausted horses into canons or partially sheltered places, where they passed many hours in misery without food or fire.

Two cowboys drifted in a canon, where they found a cedar tree with a rat's nest in it. They managed to light a fire with this. During the second night one of their horses died from cold and having nothing to eat, the men cut pieces of flesh from the dead animal, which they warmed and ate. After remaining there sixty hours they started out and, after much suffering and hardship from their weakened condition, managed to reach a ranch thirty miles away, where they were cared for.

Five cow men are known to have frozen to death. Henry Miller, John Martin, Charles Jolly, and two whose names are unknown. Two Mexican sheep herders have been found frozen to death. Two men coming in yesterday morning report drifts in some places seven and eight feet high, in which are hundreds of dead stock. Whole herds of sheep are completely wiped out of existence, and the range for thirty miles is covered with their carcasses.

It is estimated that 20,000 sheep have perished in this part of the territory. At present it is impossible to closely estimate the number of cattle lost, but it will probably be up in the thousands. Every place of shelter in town is being used as barns for snow-bound horses. The hay supply is nearly exhausted and to-day $100 per ton was offered by a stockman and refused.

At Textline, nine miles below Clayton, two passenger trains have been snowbound for a week. Provisions are running out and passengers are compelled to venture out in the storm to kill cattle, the quarters of which are taken into the cars and roasted. It is thought a snow plow will reach the imprisoned trains to-day and release them. The storm is by far the worst ever known in New Mexico and the exact loss of life and property cannot at present be estimated.

MONTANA IS ALL RIGHT.

The State Counted for the Democrats and Admitted to the Union.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 8.—The Silver Bow mandamus case was finished yesterday, Judge DeWolfe denying the right of the minority of the board of canvassers to appeal from the order of the court directing rhe canvassers to count the vote of the Tunnel precinct. The court issued a mandatory order, and Hall and Irvin counted the vote of the disputed district for McHatten, democrat. This action also covers the legislative contest, and by it the democrats secure ten of the eleven members of the Silver Bow delegation.

This gives the state and the legislature te the Democrats, insuring them the United States senators.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The president has issued a proclamation admitting Montana to statehood.

THE ELECTIONS.

Result in Ohio and Iowa--The Latter's Legislature is Republican.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—The indications now are, on figures received at republican and democratic headquarters, that the republicans will elect all the candidates on the state ticket with the exception of Campbell, and possibly lieutenant-governor.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 8.—The revised figures at the Register office give Boies for governor 4,790 plurality, and indicate the probable election of all the republican state ticket except governor.

Additional returns on the legislative ticket show that the republican majority on joint ballot will be eight.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Attorney W. H. Shambaugh is having his office rooms in the Bank Block enlarged.

Master Johnnie, son of Mr. Frank Parent, of Walton avenue, is very low with fever.

Those to participate in the Kirmiss to be given by the Trinity Episcopal church will meet at Arion hall to-night.

Mrs. Kruse, wife of ex-Policeman Kruse, of Lafayette, is visiting her uncle, Mr. Carpenter, the feed yard proprietor.

Mr. Frank Baker has gone into the apple commission business for outside revenue. He attends to other business the same as ever.

H. D. Goodrich, Grand Rapids; C. W. Robinson, Detroit; H. G. Boon, B. T. Steiner, Cleveland, are among the guests of the Rich.

The city authorities should see that the electric lights are burning earlier in the evening. Last night about 6 o'clock it was very dark all over the city.

Miss Alice McCaffery, of 261 South Webster street, died last evening, of heart disease. Funeral Sunday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, from the Cathedral.

Mr. E. A. Stimson, of Dayton, Ohio, the contractor who put down the wells for the water works supply, is in the city to complete the final details of his contract.

Mr. Frank Fee discovered and extinguished an incipient blaze in the bicycle club rooms last evening, preventing what might have been a serious conflagration.

Mrs. Adam Kuntz, of Nebraska, the woman who underwent an operation a few weeks ago, is pronounced out of danger by her physicians, Drs. A. J. and A. C. Boswell.

Last evening a large party of friends surprised Mrs. Dr. Martz, of 25 West Jefferson street, on the occasion of her twenty-fifth birthday. The evening passed very enjoyably.

Judge Taylor went to Indianapolis to-day to appear for the plaintiffs in the suit of Bass & Simons vs. the City of Fort Wayne, involving the right to condemn the Rudisill pool for water purposes.

Last evening Dr. H. S. Myers was called to the Lake Shore depot to attend a young hospital nurse, of the City hospital, named Abbe. The young woman seemed to be under the influence of morphine.

Mr. W. G. Evans, more popularly known as "Wig," has been promoted from a position in the house of Carnahan & Co., to traveling salesman. He left west on the Fort Wayne road this morning on his maiden trip.

Architect H. W. Matson is preparing plans for a hotel to be built on Cass street by J. B. Lassus, the restaurant keeper. The house will be of frame and will be located at the Muncie crossing. It will have twenty rooms.

General Manager Hays, General Supt. Magee, and Division Supt. Stevens passed through the city this morning, en route to St. Louis, on inspection, and to turn over Supt. Stevens' office to the new official, E. A. Gould.

Mr. R. G. Thompson, local passenger agent of the Wabash, received a telegram this morning announcing the sad news of his mother's death at Reading, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will leave to-night for Reading to attend the funeral.

There will be a meeting at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, in the Y. M. C. A. building, to hear reports from the churches taking part in the coming Y. M. C. A. fair. All members of the Ladies' auxiliary and all ladies interested in the Y. M. C. A. are invited to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Zartman gave a very pleasant reception at the new parsonage of the Grace church last evening. A large number were present, and a delightful repast was served to the visitors by the ladies of the church. The guests were received from 5 until 10 o'clock. The new parsonage adjoins the church on East Washington street.

The hall at the City department, Y. M. C. A., was crowded last evening, to hear the McGibeny family. Every one seemed to thoroughly enjoy the entertainment. The City department is to be congratulated on its success. It is to be hoped that this is only the beginning of good entertainments to be given there, and that the audiences may not grow less.

A HORRIBLE MURDER!

An Insane Man Kills Two Persons and Fatally Wounds Four Others With a Knife.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 8.—A butchery, probably the work of an insane man, occurred Wednesday at Bayou Bouef, La., in which two men were killed and four desperately wounded.

Quite a number of people had gathered at a hamlet to attend a "wake." Among these was Leon Thibodeaux, who was standing on the railroad platform. A stranger approached Mr. Thibodeaux and slapped him familiarly on the back. Mr. Thibodeaux remonstrated with the man, who, for answer, drew a long knife and plunged it into Thibodeaux's back and neck.

His brother, Neil Thibodeaux, ran to his assistance, and was also met by the stranger's knife which was thrust into his throat, partly severing one of the arteries, and causing him to fall to the ground from loss of blood. Meanwhile, Leon Thibodeaux had succeeded in drawing his revolver and fired one shot at his assailant without hurting him. Melas Thibodeaux, a cousin of the wounded men then ran to their assistance to be met in his turn with the knife dripping with blood of his relatives. In an instant, it had been plunged into his back and side, inflicting two ugly wounds.

Frank Pennison ran to the aid of the wounded men. The stranger plunged the knife into Pennison's heart. The poor fellow fell over and died almost without a groan. The stranger then sprang upon Josh Morrison, a one-armed employe of the railroad. Morrison made a gallant fight and succeeded in knocking down the murderer several times before he fell himself, with ten cuts on his person. The murderer, apparently satisfied with his work, then ran to the bayou and stepping into a skiff, pushed off into the stream. Mr. Auchoin pursued him, and after firing several shots, struck the murderer, who tumbled into the bayou and sank out of sight.

GEORGE EWING III.

He Is Given a Set-Back in His Suits to Recover Property.

George W. Ewing the third, of this city, has been given a set-back in his endeavor to wrest property valued at several hundred thousand dollars from parties in St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, and other cities. Ewing is laying claim to the original estate of his father who executed a trust deed conveying the property to George Ewing, sr. George, sr., afterward deeded the property back, but stipulated that the estate should descend to the legal representatives of George, jr. Subsequently George, jr., disposed of the property and made away with the proceeds. The first trial of the numerous suits in the case was made in the Wabash circuit court, and Judge Conner holds that there is insufficient cause for action. Ewing's lawyers have amended the complaint and will submit additional facts. A portion of the estate is in this city.

A Card of Thanks.

To the friends and neighbors who so kindly helped to lessen the burden of grief and shared with us the sorrows of distress, we return our sincere thanks. Those who have lost a mother will know how to measure our gratitude. We shall not forget your kindness.

MARIOTTE SISTER AND BROTHERS.

Alice, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Thomas McCaffrey, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, on South Webster street, after a short illness. She was a pupil of the St. Augustine's Academy and was universally liked by her companions and schoolmates. The funeral will occur Sunday at 1 p. m. from the cathedral.

Yesterday occurred the death of the sixteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Link, 114 Chicago street. The funeral will occur Sunday.

Mertel, the seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, 73 East Berry street, died this morning. The remains were shipped to Adrian, Mich., for burial.

STATE Y. M. C. A.

The Convention Auspiciously Opened at Lafayette Yesterday.

One of the largest conventions ever held in Lafayette is that of the State Y. M. C. A., which began its session yesterday afternoon. Delegates began to arrive Wednesday night and have been pouring into that city since from every direction. There will probably be between 300 and 400 delegates. The program is extensive and embraces much of interest. Among those who arrived to participate in the convention are: C. K. Oher, international secretary, of New York city; E. E. Stacey, assistant state secretary, of Indianapolis; Fletcher Humphrey, state secretary, of Indianapolis; F. H. Jacobs, general secretery, of Philadelphia. The noted evangelist, Rev. Dwight L. Moody, who will be the center of interest throughout the convention, arrived over the Monon from Chicago.

The following city associations will be represented: Brazil, Crawfordsville, Elkhart R. R., Evansville, Fort Wayne, R. R., New Albany, Richmond, South Bend.

The following college associations will be represented: Central Normal, of Danville; DePauw, of Greencastle; Earlham, of Richmond; Hanover, of Hanover; Purdue University, of Lafayette; State Normal, Terre Haute; Union Christian, of Merom; Wabash, of Crawfordsville.

The following are the cities who have representatives of prayer circles: Lafayette, Goshen, Jeffersonville, Seymour, Rockville, Shelbyville, Valparaiso, Hammond, Frankfort, Hammond-Wabash, Greensburg, North Vernon, Kokomo, and Delphi.

At the evening session the annual reports of state officers were read, from which it is learned that there are now eighteen associations in the state, with a membership of 4,139, an increase during the year of 373. There are 127 corresponding members and seventeen prayer circles. During the year there has been a decrease of one in the number of associations. In the annual report the president referred to Alexander Roberts, for a time assistant state secretary, as having kept $70 of the association's money and fled, and spoke of him as as keen and polished a scoundrel as ever breathed the breath of life. The financial report shows the association to be $1,600 in debt. After the reports were read and referred. Dwight L. Moody, the noted evangelist, delivered an address.

WILL FORCE THE WORK.

The Street Commissioner Will Be Instructed to Make Street Repairs.

Street Commissioner Dennis O'Brien will be instructed to follow in the wake of the trench diggers of the Salimonie Natural Gas Company and repair the streets wherever he deems such remedy called for. The paved streets especially will receive attention, for upon these the most irregular condition is discernible."

"If I am instructed to repair the streets," said Mr. O'Brien, "the pavements will be attended to first. I shall tear up and excavate again to the pipes and when the dirt is replaced it will be packed from bottom up."

The most serious fault seemed to hinge on this particular failure of performing the work. Many of the trenches have caved in leaving at places dangerous ruts, which are hardly anything else than pit-falls upon a dark night. The paved streets are crowded during the business hours making it quite necessary that the street proper be made free from holes and ruts to impede commercial and other travel.

If it becomes necessary for the city to make these repairs the expense of the same will fall to the Salimonie company.

SCHIEFER'S PLUM.

A Post-Tradership Apt to Fall to a Fort Wayne Man.

THE SENTINEL some time ago stated that the chances were favorable for the Indian commissioner to appoint Will D. Schiefer, of this city, to a post out west somewhere.

To-day Mr. Schiefer received a blank application which he will fill out, and will leave for Washington Saturday evening to present it to the commissioner in person.

Mr. Schiefer has been recommended for a position, and the republican allies detailed two men to go to Washington to look after his interests.

The republicans could hardly bestow the place to a man better qualified for the place.

Hon. J. M. Barrett is at Plymouth, Ind., to-day, on law business.

FRIDAY, NOV. 8, 1889.

MR. FORAKER's chances for a presidential nomination are not as brilliant as they were.

THE Indiana supreme court has decided that natural gas can be piped to points outside of the state.

THE republicans never had any reason to hope that they would be able to carry Virginia, New Jersey or Maryland, but they did expect to win in Ohio and Iowa.

THE kind of an indorsement which the administration has received in Virginia is what it might have expected when it countenanced such a demagogue as Mahone.

FIVE years ago the production of petroleum in Ohio was hardly worth mentioning. Last year the production was 10,000,000 barrels against 16,000,000 barrels for Pennsylvania, and this year it is believed that the production in Ohio will lead other states.

THE republicans are now engaged in solving the problem of the causes that led to their defeat in Ohio and Iowa. In their calculations they lose sight entirely of tariff reform, which contributed in no small degree to the result. Tariff reform is the living issue of the day and with it the democracy will again secure control in national affairs.

HON. JOS. E. MCDONALD, Indiana's ex-senator, says: "Senator Sherman, a few nights since, in his speech at the Music hall in the city of Cincinnati, referred to the fact that in his late tour abroad, he had visited many European countries, and that they had, to use his own language, all adopted the American system of protection, except free trade England—France, Germany, Russia, Belgium, Italy—all except England—but he failed to state the fact that England is shipping annually to foreign countries more products of manufacture than all other countries named by him put together, and that she is the only country in Europe that pays a decent price to her laborers; that in Europe wages are lowest in those countries where protection is highest. This may not prove that free trade necessarily increases the price of labor, but it certainly does prove that protection does not protect."

THE SITUATION IN BRIEF.

The result of Tuesday's elections, with instructive comparisons, says the Detroit Free Press, is shown by the following table:

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Indiana supreme court handed down two decisions yesterday which will create great excitement in the state, owing to the fact that they practically revolutionize the present method of selecting heads of departments and bureaus established by the general assembly. The cases decided was the one in which John Worrell (republican) as Governor Hovey's appointee, sought possession of the office of chief of the bureau of statistics now held by William A. Peele (democrat) who was appointed by the legislature, and the one in which S. T. Yancey (republican) sought possession of the office of state oil inspector, now held by Nelson A. Hyde (democrat.)

The decision also determined the suits of Professor John Collett (republican) Governor Hovey's appointee as chief of the bureau of geology and natural science, against S. S. Gorby, (democrat) who now holds the office by virtue of appointment of the legislature. In each case the majority of the court holds that the offices can legally be filled only by election, and that until a general election is held, the power to fill the offices is vested in the governor.

A peculiarity of the decision is that Chief Justice Elliott (Rep.) dissents from the opinion of the majority. The effect of the decision will be to increase the number of elective offices considerably and make an unusually long ticket to be voted for at every general election. Neither of the defendants will relinquish his office without further litigation, and the decision seems to justify the claims of each to be the duly constituted official even under the ruling of the court. The two officers whose cases were decided hold commissions from Governor Gray, and the question arises whether, in view of that circumstance, they are not legally qualified until their successors are chosen by the people. This matter will now go before the courts, the incumbents holding office until a decision is given.

INDIANA NEWS.

Our Exchange Editor Glances Over Different Parts of the State.

Ora Emmons was thrown from his horse east of Montepelier and was fatally injured.

Fire destroyed J. E. McKendry's stave and heading factory at Elwood. Loss, $5,000.

Willie Crawford, aged eight years, was thrown from a wagon at Huntington Wednesday and instantly killed.

The board of city school trustees have decided to do away with all examinations in the public schools of Crawfordsville.

Rev. S. C. Dickey was installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Peru, with much ceremony, Tuesday evening.

The Franklin city council has refused to extend the time given the local waterworks company to begin work, and the franchise will lapse December 31.

Taylor Bayles, for attempted murder, and William Meal, for stealing a chicken, were each sentenced to one year's imprisonment in Crawford county.

L. B. Pierce, justice of the peace of Hartford City, was stricken with paralysis Wednesday, and can not recover. Mr. Pierce is the father of Hon. Elisha Pierce, of that city.

Past Supreme Chancellor J. H. Rathbone, the founder of the Knights of Pythias, is very ill at the Hatfield house in Bedford. His trouble is a large carbuncle in the middle of his back.

James Luce, a prominent resident of Yorktown, Delaware county, dropped dead Tuesday afternoon, after finishing a hearty dinner at his home. It is supposed that heart trouble caused his death.

Miss Miriam Harvey, daughter of George Harvey, a leading attorney of Marion, and one of the brightest and most popular young ladies in that city, died suddenly this week, at the age of seventeen.

The Greene school house, south of Waynetown, was for the third time damaged by unknown persons on last Saturday night. This time the shutters were torn off, windows, desks and door's broken, doing damage to the amount of $100.

Two colored men, David Rivers and Tommy Strode, assaulted Mrs. Clarquist, custodian of P. E. Studebaker's residence, at South Bend, intending to put her out of the way and plunder the house. Her desperate resistance foiled them.

While Ina Watson, a twelve-year-old boy, was on a wagon loaded with household goods, moving from Balbeck to Redkey, in Jay county, the horses ran away with him, throwing him off of the wagon and injuring him so that the doctors say he will die.

Warden Patten, of the prison south, took Edward Stropes, the defaulting treasurer of Greene county, back to Bloomfield, on a mandate from the supreme court granting him a new trial. He was sentenced to serve one year, and has served out half of that time.

A bloody and almost fatal fight occurred at Knightsville Monday evening. C. A. Forcum, who has been black-legging in the Jumbo mine, was assaulted by strikers. He was struck in the mouth by a heavy cinder and rendered insensible. His assailants sprang upon him and beat him until they thought life was extinct. He lies in a dangerous condition.

The Indiana supreme court Wednesday affirmed the decision of the Jay circuit court, which holds that the act passed by the Indiana legislature forbidding the piping of Indiana natural gas beyond the limits of the state is in contravention of the letter and the spirit of the constitution of the United States.

The decision is of special importance to the city of Chicago, which is to be supplied with natural gas from this state. A company has been formed with a capital of $2,000,000, the gas territory has been secured, the surveys made and the attorney for the company states that work will be pushed at once and that the fullest success of the enterprise is beyond all doubt. The law was passed to prevent the Chicago gas trust from piping gas to Chicago. The home gas companies hoped that the court could give the law some standing by holding that foreigners might not condemn the right of way over which to pipe gas. This was their strong hope, but it comes to naught.

Morse Hoyt, one of the passenger conductors on the Wabash who was suspended some time ago, has been reinstated. The charges against him were thoroughly investigated and not a particle of evidence could be found to sustain any part of them.

The Warsaw Times says: "Mr. Dunlap, United States marshal for the district of Indiana; L. M. Ninde, of Fort Wayne, and others passed through this place to-day, on their way to Turkey Creek township, in this county, where there is to be a marshal's sale of land."

The Peru Sentinel says: "Miss Lou Harlan elegantly entertained a number of her lady and gentlemen friends on last Tuesday evening, in honor of her friends, Miss Laura Lightfoot, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Mattie Wiley, of Charleston, Ill., who are guests of Miss Wilbur Mitten."

The Huntington Democrat says: "A little boy and girl attempted to board the Wabash neon train, but having neither money nor tickets the train men would not carry them. The little fellow said his parents lived in Fort Wayne, that his name was Seidell, and that they had been visiting the Everdings here. They were sent back to the family."

The Jackson, Mich., Patriot has the following in relation to our fire commissioners: "Yesterday afternoon Henry Hilbrecht, chief of the fire department, with George W. Ely, L. P. Huser and P. J. Scheid, fire commissioners, of Fort Wayne, arrived in this city on a tour of inspection to the fire department, its methods and apparatus, but more particularly the chemical engines. They were shown through both engine houses by Chief Conely and commissioners Mogford and Smith, and the workings of the chemicals were thoroughly explained. The gentlemen expressed themselves as highly pleased with the courtesies shown them and stated that Jackson had one of the finest departments they had ever seen. The party has paid similar visits to the departments of Toledo and Detroit and left on the evening train for Grand Rapids, from whence they go to Muskegon and Kalamazoo."

"Held by the Enemy" is a touching story, in which pathos and comedy run hand in hand. The heart is thrilled with a noble sympathy and one's whole being is wrought up to a high pitch, when, like a cooling breeze in the summer sun, comes a shower of comedy that carries the audience away in the most happy and pleasant thoughts, while they laugh with redoubled energy and the tear-stained eyes sparkle anew with merriment. It is this wonderful interlacing of the pathetic, the patriotic and the humorous that makes the production a literary gem. The company comes to the Temple to morrow evening.

EATON RAPIDS, Mich.

J. M. LOOSE RED CLOVER Co., Detroit:—Two years I was afflicted with a very severe attack of Erysipelas. After two physicians had used their treatment for several weeks and I continued growing blind, and in their diagnosis concluded that there was no earthly help or hope for me. I gave up, having tried all the remedies I knew or heard of. My neighbor, Mr. Miller, came in to see me one day, and said try Loose's Extract of Red Clover, as he had known of its working remarkable cures. I told him I had lost hope, that nothing would do me any good in the world. He insisted, and taking his hat went to the drug store and bought me one bottle and urged me to try it, which I did. Ten days afterward I sent for two more bottles, and it is wonderful how I improved. I continued using it and to-day I am better than I have been in years. No sign of erysipelas has shown itself and I heartily recommend it to suffering humanity as the greatest and best blood purifier in existence. Yours truly,

FUEL FOR LOCOMOTIVES.

Manufacturing It From Coal Dust--News and Gossip From the Busy Centers.

The Reading railroad officials headed by President Corbin, visited the company's coal plant at Mahanoy City, Pa., yesterday to inspect a new process of making fuel from coal dust. Heretofore about one-seventh of the coal mines has been lost in dust. It is now intended to utilize the dust by making it into bricketts that will burn like hard coal except that there is no clinkers and the brickett burns to ashes.

The new process consists of the coal dust being evenly distributed with one-tenth per cent. of pitch. This, by an ingenious contrivance, is pressed with great machines in large cakes, steam being used to moisten the mass. So hard does it become that it possesses the same power of resistance as coal, or in other words, a hundred pounds of coal dust pressed will last as long as the same amount of hard coal. A pressure of thirty-five tons is brought to bear on each brickett.

There are two presses in operation now and when run to their full capacity will turn out about 800 tons of the bricketts in twenty-four hours. The bricketts take up twenty-five per cent. less space than ordinary coal, and in consequence an engine can be loaded to go one-fourth further without replenishing the supply of fuel.

All the officials expressed themselves very much gratified by the new process, and expect the company will be enabled to save from $35,000 to $40,000 per year by the use of the fuel.

Mr. C. M. Jacobs, an expert in fuel making, has been brought from England to superintend the works. A company has been formed, with Austin as president, for manufacturing this fuel, and it is intended to place it on the market for a lower price than is now paid for coal.

TESTING AN ENGINE.

The Baltimore and Ohio company has recently received from the Baldwin locomotive works a compound engine built on the English plan.

The engine is to be given a fair trial by the Baltimore and Ohio people. If the tests prove satisfactory, the engine will be adopted, as it takes from 20 to 25 per cent. less fuel to run it than is consumed by the engines now in use on the Baltimore and Ohio.

Less coal dust is thrown from the stack, and the engine is capable of very fast time. It has already been tried on both local and express trains. In a recent run between Baltimore and Philadelphia twenty-two minutes were made up.

GOSSIP OF THE DAY.

Brakeman Willams. of the Wabash, has resigned.

Conductor Sullivan, of the Wabash, is on the sick list.

The scarcity of box cars is still apparent on every hand.

Newton Hart, brakeman on the Wabash, is on the sick list.

I. H. Reidt has taken a position at the Pittsburg machine shops.

Joseph Dwenger, of the Pittsburg machine shops, is on the sick list.

Over 125 cars of company coal is stored at the east Pittsburg yards at present.

To-morrow is pay day at the Bass foundry, Fort Wayne iron works and Kerr Murray works.

Isander White, of Harrisburg, Pa., is here on a visit, the guest of his brother, Jeff White, of White's wheel works.

Owen Barry and his force, at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, are off duty on account of repairs to the furnace.

Louise Estel, Paul Berger, and Geo. Loyd, of White's wheel works, will take a hunting trip next Sunday to Kingsland.

E. K. Stevens, of the Wabash, is running engine No. 1,187 on the Wabash during the absence of Engineer A. J. Boughton.

Brakeman J. H. Ream is with Adams on the Wabash accommodation, in place of C. E. Trowl, who has leave of absence for two weeks.

Geo. H. Freeby, oiler at the Pensylvania, and S. Mason and E. T. Carey, of the blacksmith shops, are off duty on account of sickness.

John Slater, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, is a strong republican, but he displays a rooster, nevertheless, on his forge to make his democratic friends feel good.

Conductor Tom Gleason, of the Wabash, traveled 4,953 miles on the second district during the month of October. Only forty-seven miles short of $150 for his month's wages.

Postmaster Higgins accompanied the mail carrier on his trip in the Seventh and Tenth ward district yesterday. He made the east Pittsburg yard office a pleasant call while en route.

The Vanderbilts are discarding the term "depot" in its application to the passenger business, following up the suggestion of the late Richard Grant White, that a depot is a repository for freight. It is no longer the "Grand Central depot" at New York, but "Grand Central station." Even the passenger switch engines are labeled G. C. S," instead of "G. C. D.," as formerly.

Forty loaded cars now make a freight train on the Pennsylvania road, instead of forty-five cars, as was the case during the warmer weather. The cannon ball trains haul from twenty-five to thirty-six loaded cars. In figuring on empty cars in a train, box, stock, or refrigerator cars are reckoned at two-thirds of a load, and a flat or gondola car at one-half a load. In no case is a train to have over sixty-five cars.

The engineers' convetion, which was in session at Denver, Col., has adopted a very important amendment to their constitution. Heretofore when a fireman was promoted to be an engineer he could not join the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers without first resigning from the Firemen's Brotherhood. The amendment adopted allows a new engineer to join the Engineer's Brotherhood and at the same time retain his membership in the B. of L. F.

F. Slataper, consulting engineer; A. B. Starr, superintendent of the eastern division; E. B. Taylor, general superintendent; C. D. Law, superintendent of western division; Thomas Rodd, chief engineer; Thomas Jackson, assistant chief engineer; Wm. Borner, divison freight agent, and N. W. Thompson, superintendent of bridges, and other officials of the Pennsylvania company, passed through the city this morning on their way west on an inspection tour.

George W. Stevens, superintendent of the east division of the Wabash, who has resigned to take a similar position on the Chesapeake and Ohio, with headquarters at Richmond, Va., began his railroad career as a messenger boy in a Baltimore and Ohio office, Feb. 1, 1864, he then being thirteen years of age; in 1865 he went into the telegraph office and soon showed himself to be a good operator; in 1870 he went into the employ of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis road as operator and agent; in 1871 he went into the train-dispatcher's office of the road; in 1873 to the Wabash road, and for eight years was a train-dispatcher on that line; in 1881 he was appointed superintendent of the Ohio and Indiana divisions of the Wabash, and on July 1, 1883, was appointed superintendent of the eastern division of the Wabash, with headquarters at Peru, which position he now retires from.

Band prize open to the world, special, for bands with not less than thirty five pieces, $200. Two entries required.

It has been decided to place the entire organization in camp. A most delightful situation has been secured where the tents will be pitched and furnished to the uniform rank free of charge. Each brigade and state will be camped separately, but all are to form one grand encampment. The entertainments to be provided for the visitors and Sir Knights will be on a much more magnificent scale than at any former biennial session of the order.

Hoagland Jots.

HOAGLAND, Nov. 6, 1889.

Mr. E. E. Jamison is out again after a brief illness.

Dr. J. Harrod, of Payne, Ohio, paid Hoagland a flying visit Sunday.

Mr. J. M. Jamison, a prominent lawyer of Grand Rapids, Mich., is visiting his parents, who reside near this place.

Miss Leah Barkley, the accomplished daughter of Mr. Jacob Barkley, is contemplating attending the musical department of the college at Findlay, Ohio.

Mr. J. L. Barkley and his accomplished wife will, as we understand, remove to Fort Wayne in the near future. They will, in all probability, engage in the music business.

A grand band concert and festival will be given under the auspices of the Hoagland cornet band at no distant date, the noticeable feature of this entertainment will be given in due time.

Mr. F. Livengood, the successful teacher of the Hoagland school, has removed to Payne, Ohio, and will assume control of the schools at the above named place. Some dissatisfaction existed in regard to his resignation here, but Mr. Livengood, evidently knows what he is doing.

AN ELOPEMENT.

A Love-sick Twain of Williamsport Run Away.

A Danville, Ill., special says: "James W. Mather and Miss Nellie James, of Williamsport, Ind., made application to-day for a marriage license. The girl being but seventeen years of age, was refused a license by the county clerk. The girl says she was married to another man in Williamsport some four weeks ago, and, as she did not love the man, she went to the judge in that county and he told her she was divorced; that the marriage was null and void on account of her age. She then fell in love with Mather, and ran away to marry the man of her choice. Failing to procure a license, the couple returned home. The would-be bride of two husbands says her mother is the owner of 327 acres of land near Williamsport."

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Professor Vambery won the heart of the shah by his perfect mastery of the Persian language.

Some Medical Hints Worth Remembering.

Sore Throat can be cured in one day by using Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

Rheumatism. Many cases of chronic rheumatism that had resisted all other treatment, have been cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

Cuts, Wounds and Bruises are healed in one half less time and without leaving a scar when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is promptly applied.

Burns and Scalds. The pain is almost instantly relieved and the parts quickly healed by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

Neuralgia can be cured by using Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

Sprains can be cured within one-third the usual time by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm before the parts become swollen or inflamed, which can always be done if you have the remedy at hand. Fifty cents and $1 bottles.

Deputy Auditor C. J. McLain and Deputy Recorder John Heller were released from duty yesterday so that they might seek the forest and field, there to allure the quail to an untimely death. It is told that John shot a bird nine times, the bullet entering the same place each shot. The result was fatal to the bird, which Recorder Thompson will have prepared by a taxidermist and mounted in the office. The balance of the game bagged by the gentlemen may go toward a public dinner.

Dr. Wm. F. Myers returned last night from Chicago, where he attended the Illinois State Veterinary Medical association meeting and the American Horse show. He says that he saw the finest collection of horses that ever visited any prize ring. The famous horses, Axtell, Johnston, Mambrino, King and all noted horse flesh were present. He also saw the world's record of high jumping horses beaten, which was six feet, nine and a half inches, and it was raised to six feet, ten and three-quarter inches by the horses Ontario and Rosemary, both Canadians. The doctor is certainly a close observer of the equine and canine races and is a lover of those animals.

Elocution.

Miss Susie V. Dunavon, a New York elocutionist, has located in Fort Wayne for the purpose of giving instruction in that art. Miss Dunavon studied under one of Boston's best teachers, and is qualified to teach any branch of the science. She has met with marked success on the platform, as the appended notice will show. To those having weak lungs and throat the drill would be especially beneficial. Parents having awkward sons and daughters would confer a lasting benefit on them by giving them a course in the Delsarte System of Expression. Particular attention paid to making good, intelligible readers. Call at No. 58 East Wayne street.

A CHARMING ELOCUTIONIST.

Miss Dunavon is an accomplished elocutionist and the several selections recited by her, showed great natural ability developed by thorough culture. In every selection she caught the spirit of the author, and by unaffected delivery and natural dramatic expression, created a very pleasing impression on her audience. Her program embraced a wide range of literature, and she was equally successful in expressing pathos and humor. Her perfect recitation of the "Bobolink," a trying selection, fairly electrified the audience.—Daily Republican, Binghamton, N. Y.

THREE OF A KIND.

The above picture represents "three of a kind"—(well dressed gents) and yet they are not of a kind, as three distinct styles are shown. In addition to these we can also show several other equally fashionable garments, and in all styles. We can fit lean, medium or fast men. You can't help but be pleased with what we are now offering, for while these garments are equal to any tailor made clothes, they cost but a fraction of what would be charged for them were they to come out of a tailor shop.

It costs but little to be well dressed if you will but give us a chance to show you what a real fit means.

WOODRUFF WON'T TESTIFY

He Will Not Get a Chance to Tell His Fairy Tale on the Witness Stand.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Woodruff is to be disappointed again. The state's attorneys have concluded, after a great deal of argument, that he is not the sort of a witness calculated to help in so important a case as the Cronin trial and he will not be placed on the stand to rehearse the many fairy tales with which he regaled the public. The chances are that he will never be tried for anything more desperate than stealing Dinan's horse and wagon.

The Cronin trial was resumed this morning, with Captain Schuettler in the witness chair. He brought with him into court the blind taken from a window of the Carlson cottage, with the paint prints of a hand on it. The witness was cross-examined by Judge Wing.

The finger marks on the window were made with the same yellow paint with which the floor was smeared. One slat of the blind was broken.

It looked as though some one had attempted to close the blind hurriedly and had not noticed that his hand was covered with paint. Witness found in the cottage a pail or can of paint, and in it a brush. The paint had evidently been exposed to the air for some time. This paint corresponded to that on the floor. Captain Schuettler then related how he took charge of the lock and key and other articles found in the cottage.

On the redirect examination by Mr. Hynes, witness told of the conversation between O'Sullivan and Capt. Schaack, in which he (witness) took part, on May 28, in which O'Sullivan admitted the contract between him and Dr. Cronin and also that he (O'Sullivan) had telephoned Coughlin to inform him about a man named Kunze and a horse. The state's attorney this morning handed Mr. Forrest an additional list of witnesses that the state expects to summon.

O'Sullivan also admitted in this conversation that none of his men had ever been injured and that he had never been sued for damages. O'Sullivan denied positively that he was a member of the Clan-na Gael. Captain Schuettler stated how he became possessed of the blind and told the history of the hair taken from the trunk. Witness had been given two bunches of hair; one by Dr. Egbert and the other by Captain Wing. Both of these he had given to Dr. Belfield in the same condition that he received them. On the recross-examination by Judge Wing witness went into a detailed history of the key of the trunk.

William Neimann was then called and his evidence created quite a sensation. Neiman's story was that he is a saloon-keeper, on School street and Ashland avenue. He opened his place May 3 and that day made a contract with O'Sullivan for ice. The next evening, May 4, about 10:30 o'clock, O'Sullivan came in, accompanied by two men. They staid about a half an hour.

A MYSTERIOUS TRAMP

Dies in Ohio--May Have Had Some Connection With the Cronin Case.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 8.—A mysterious tramp died of paralysis, Thursday, at the farm house of J. M. Staley, six miles from here. He was an elderly, well educated and intelligent man, claiming to be a school teacher, but would not disclose even his name.

During his dying delirium he made many incoherent references to the Cronin trial and talked about the murder and affairs of the Clan-na-Gael. He carried with him a book pasted full of newspaper clippings in regard to the case. From what could be made out of his talk it is thought that he must have had some connection with it.

A BAD AGENT

Deserts His Wife and Takes His Employer's Money.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 8.—J. A. Shepard, of Chicago, a dealer in crayon portraits, is in Ballston looking for H. K. Chamberlain, who has been acting as his agent in this district. He claims that Chamberlain stole several hundred dollars, collected for work done by the firm. Chamberlain took many orders for portraits and spent money freely.

In September he was married, after an acquaintance of a few days, to Miss Bertha Freeman, an employe of the St. Charles hotel, in Baltimore, and after living with her three weeks, disappeared and has not been seen since. It is said that he has other wives living. Papers for his arrest are in the hands of officers.

BURGLARS' WORK.

The Residence of Mr. J. H. W. Schaefer Entered by Thieves.

Last night the residence of Mr. John H. W. Schaefer, in Bloomingdale, between High and Third streets, was entered by burglars. They first got into the kitchen through a rear window, and then, by breaking the lock of a door that led into the dining room, were enabled to gain access to other parts of the house.

In the front room Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer were sleeping, all unconscious of the presence of the slick rascals in the house. The thieves entered this room, and taking Mr. Schaefer's clothes from a chair, carried them to the kitchen, where at their leisure they rifled the pockets, securing his pocketbook, containing a $5 bill and a Holland guilder, worth about 40 cents. These they appropriated to their own use and then effected their escape, and when Mr. Schaefer awoke this morning he discovered his loss.

There is no clue to the thieves.

D. McCarty, who resides at 160 West Superior street, says thieves entered his premises last night and stole twenty-six fine specimens of poultry. Mr. McCarty runs on the Nickel Plate, and was out at the time. He says the thieves can have the chicken-coop and everything that is left if they will only come when he is at home.

A PROBABLE MURDER.

William Lepker Affronted With a Charge of Fearful Assault.

William Lepker, the man who was arrested by Officer Patton yesterday for the theft of a coat and other wearing apparel from Kraus, the truckman, and who was sentenced for one year by Judge O'Rourke, stands a chance of being re-arrested upon the expiration of his sentence, by the sheriff of Paulding county, Ohio. The charge then will probably be murder. The officer, when in the city last night, identified Lepker as being the man who assaulted and robbed a man named DeLand, at Paulding, Ohio, recently. The dastardly work was done under the cover of darkness. Lepker struck the man over the head with a stick of wood until his victim was unconscious, then he secured $25.00 and fled.

DeLand was found in the early morning, blood flowing from the numerous wounds. He is in a critical condition and may die, in which event Lepker will pay the penalty.

FELL DOWN STAIRS.

Mr. Christian Bleeke is Severely Injured--Another Accident.

Mr. Christian Bleeke is an old gentleman, eighty-nine years of age, and lives with his daughter, Mrs. William Baade, 263 East Jefferson street.

Last night he started up stairs to retire to his bed, and when about half way up the stairway fell and struck his head upon the bannister. When found within a moment afterward, he was lying at the bottom of the stairs, suffering severely from a concussion of the brain Dr. Boswell was called and attended Mr. Bleeke's injuries, which are of such a nature as to confine him to his bed. His extreme age is against his recovery.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Ruhl, in ascending with the elevator at the Centlivre brewery, caught his right foot between the car and floor and the limb was almost pulled from the ankle joint. As it was it was fearfully crushed and his ankle joint was fractured.

Dr. George L. Greenawalt attends him.

THEY WILL FIGHT.

A Prize Fight Arranged for To-morrow Night at Sheldon.

To-morrow night a crowd of sports will leave this city for Sheldon, where a prize fight has been arranged to take place between Fred Greenberg and Ally York, two well-known pugilists of this city. Greenberg is employed at the Fort Wayne Organ Factory and has been engaged in a number of sparring matches in this city and elsewhere.

York is a good boxer and his friends say he can whip Greenburg. The men will fight with bare knuckles, for a purse of $100, if the authorities do not interfere.

Such encounters are a disgrace to a civilized community, and it is to be hoped the officers will intercept the pugilists and prevent them from fighting. This article is a free advertisement for the pugilists and a notice to the officers that such a mill has been arranged.

Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—For Indiana: Heavy rain; cooler; variable winds.

SNOW STORMS!

A Fearful One Raging in New Mexico, and Death and Suffering is the Result.

CLAYTON, N. M., Nov. 8.—Unless the snowstorm, which has been raging for eight days, comes to an end soon, next summer will show a country covered with the dead bodies of animals as thickly as was the old Santa Fe trail in the sixties. The depth of snow is now not less than twenty-six inches on the level, and in many places it has drifted seven feet high. When the storm struck this section seven large herds of cattle, numbering from four hundred to two thousand, were being held near this place, awaiting shipment to eastern markets.

The rain of a week ago Wednesday was followed Thursday morning by blizzards of snow and sleet, which sent the herds in a southerly direction. In vain did the cowboys try to check the march of the herds. On they went through the increasing storm until, finding it utterly impossible to hold the cattle, the boys rode aside and let them pass, and, nearly dead, rode their exhausted horses into canons or partially sheltered places, where they passed many hours in misery without food or fire.

Two cowboys drifted in a canon, where they found a cedar tree with a rat's nest in it. They managed to light a fire with this. During the second night one of their horses died from cold and having nothing to eat, the men cut pieces of flesh from the dead animal, which they warmed and ate. After remaining there sixty hours they started out and, after much suffering and hardship from their weakened condition, managed to reach a ranch thirty miles away, where they were cared for.

Five cow men are known to have frozen to death. Henry Miller, John Martin, Charles Jolly, and two whose names are unknown. Two Mexican sheep herders have been found frozen to death. Two men coming in yesterday morning report drifts in some places seven and eight feet high, in which are hundreds of dead stock. Whole herds of sheep are completely wiped out of existence, and the range for thirty miles is covered with their carcasses.

It is estimated that 20,000 sheep have perished in this part of the territory. At present it is impossible to closely estimate the number of cattle lost, but it will probably be up in the thousands. Every place of shelter in town is being used as barns for snow-bound horses. The hay supply is nearly exhausted and to-day $100 per ton was offered by a stockman and refused.

At Textline, nine miles below Clayton, two passenger trains have been snowbound for a week. Provisions are running out and passengers are compelled to venture out in the storm to kill cattle, the quarters of which are taken into the cars and roasted. It is thought a snow plow will reach the imprisoned trains to-day and release them. The storm is by far the worst ever known in New Mexico and the exact loss of life and property cannot at present be estimated.

MONTANA IS ALL RIGHT.

The State Counted for the Democrats and Admitted to the Union.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 8.—The Silver Bow mandamus case was finished yesterday, Judge DeWolfe denying the right of the minority of the board of canvassers to appeal from the order of the court directing the canvassers to count the vote of the Tunnel precinct. The court issued a mandatory order, and Hall and Irvin counted the vote of the disputed district for McHatten, democrat. This action also covers the legislative contest, and by it the democrats secure ten of the eleven members of the Silver Bow delegation.

This gives the state and the legislature to the Democrats, insuring them the United States senators.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The president has issued a proclamation admitting Montana to statehood.

THE ELECTIONS.

Result in Ohio and Iowa--The Latter's Legislature is Republican.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—The indications now are, on figures received at republican and democratic headquarters, that the republicans will elect all the candidates on the state ticket with the exception of Campbell, and possibly lieutenant-governor.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 8.—The revised figures at the Register office give Boies for governor 4,790 plurality, and indicate the probable election of all the republican state ticket except governor.

Additional returns on the legislative ticket show that the republican majority on joint ballot will be eight.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Attorney W. H. Shambaugh is having his office rooms in the Bank Block enlarged.

Master Johnnie, son of Mr. Frank Parent, of Walton avenue, is very low with fever.

Those to participate in the Kirmiss to be given by the Trinity Episcopal church will meet at Arion hall to-night.

Mrs. Kruse, wife of ex-Policeman Kruse, of Lafayette, is visiting her uncle, Mr. Carpenter, the feed yard proprietor.

Mr. Frank Baker has gone into the apple commission business for outside revenue. He attends to other business the same as ever.

H. D. Goodrich, Grand Rapids; C. W. Robinson, Detroit; H. G. Boon, B. T. Steiner, Cleveland, are among the guests of the Rich.

The city authorities should see that the electric lights are burning earlier in the evening. Last night about 6 o'clock it was very dark all over the city.

Miss Alice McCaffery, of 261 South Webster street, died last evening, of heart disease. Funeral Sunday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, from the Cathedral.

Mr. E. A. Stimson, of Dayton, Ohio, the contractor who put down the wells for the water works supply, is in the city to complete the final details of his contract.

Mr. Frank Fee discovered and extinguished an incipient blaze in the bicycle club rooms last evening, preventing what might have been a serious conflagration.

Mrs. Adam Kuntz, of Nebraska, the woman who underwent an operation a few weeks ago, is pronounced out of danger by her physicians, Drs. A. J. and A. C. Boswell.

Last evening a large party of friends surprised Mrs. Dr. Martz, of 25 West Jefferson street, on the occasion of her twenty-fifth birthday. The evening passed very enjoyably.

Judge Taylor went to Indianapolis to-day to appear for the plaintiffs in the suit of Bass & Simons vs. the City of Fort Wayne, involving the right to condemn the Rudisill pool for water purposes.

Last evening Dr. H. S. Myers was called to the Lake Shore depot to attend a young hospital nurse, of the City hospital, named Abbe. The young woman seemed to be under the influence of morphine.

Mr. W. G. Evans, more popularly known as "Wig," has been promoted from a position in the house of Carnahan & Co., to traveling salesman. He left west on the Fort Wayne road this morning on his maiden trip.

Architect H. W. Matson is preparing plans for a hotel to be built on Cass street by J. B. Lassus, the restaurant keeper. The house will be of frame and will be located at the Muncie crossing. It will have twenty rooms.

General Manager Hays, General Supt. Magee, and Division Supt. Stevens passed through the city this morning, en route to St. Louis, on inspection, and to turn over Supt. Stevens' office to the new official, E. A. Gould.

Mr. R. G. Thompson, local passenger agent of the Wabash, received a telegram this morning announcing the sad news of his mother's death at Reading, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will leave to-night for Reading to attend the funeral.

There will be a meeting at 3 o'clock to morrow afternoon, in the Y. M. C. A. building, to hear reports from the churches taking part in the coming Y. M. C. A. fair. All members of the Ladies' auxiliary and all ladies interested in the Y. M. C. A. are invited to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Zartman gave a very pleasant reception at the new parsonage of the Grace church last evening. A large number were present, and a delightful repast was served to the visitors by the ladies of the church. The guests were received from 5 until 10 o'clock. The new parsonage adjoins the church on East Washington street.

The hall at the City department, Y. M. C. A., was crowded last evening, to hear the McGibeny family. Every one seemed to thoroughly enjoy the entertainment. The City department is to be congratulated on its success. It is to be hoped that this is only the beginning of good entertainments to be given there, and that the audiences may not grow less.

A HORRIBLE MURDER!

An Insane Man Kills Two Persons and Fatally Wounds Four Others With a Knife.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 8.—A butchery, probably the work of an insane man, occurred Wednesday at Bayou Boeuf, La., in which two men were killed and four desperately wounded.

Quite a number of people had gathered at a hamlet to attend a "wake." Among these was Leon Thibodeaux, who was standing on the railroad platform. A stranger approached Mr. Thibodeaux and slapped him familiarly on the back. Mr. Thibodeaux remonstrated with the man, who, for answer, drew a long knife and plunged it into Thibodeaux's back and neck.

His brother, Neil Thibodeaux, ran to his assistance, and was also met by the stranger's knife which was thrust into his throat, partly severing one of the arteries, and causing him to fall to the ground from loss of blood. Meanwhile, Leon Thibodeaux had succeeded in drawing his revolver and fired one shot at his assailant without hurting him. Melas Thibodeaux, a cousin of the wounded men then ran to their assistance to be met in his turn with the knife dripping with blood of his relatives. In an instant, it had been plunged into his back and side, inflicting two ugly wounds.

Frank Pennison ran to the aid of the wounded men. The stranger plunged the knife into Pennison's heart. The poor fellow fell over and died almost without a groan. The stranger then sprang upon Josh Morrison, a one-armed employe of the railroad. Morrison made a gallant fight and succeeded in knocking down the murderer several times before he fell himself, with ten cuts on his person. The murderer, apparently satisfied with his work, then ran to the bayou and stepping into a skiff, pushed off into the stream. Mr. Anchoin pursued him, and after firing several shots, struck the murderer, who tumbled into the bayou and sank out of sight.

GEORGE EWING III.

He Is Given a Set-Back in His Suits to Recover Property.

George W. Ewing the third, of this city, has been given a set-back in his endeavor to wrest property valued at several hundred thousand dollars from parties in St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, and other cities. Ewing is laying claim to the original estate of his father who executed a trust deed conveying the property to George Ewing, sr. George, sr., afterward deeded the property back, but stipulated that the estate should descend to the legal representatives of George, jr. Subsequently George, jr., disposed of the property and made away with the proceeds. The first trial of the numerous suits in the case was made in the Wabash circuit court, and Judge Conner holds that there is insufficient cause for action. Ewing's lawyers have amended the complaint and will submit additional facts. A portion of the estate is in this city.

A Card of Thanks.

To the friends and neighbors who so kindly helped to lessen the burden of grief and shared with us the sorrows of distress, we return our sincere thanks. Those who have lost a mother will know how to measure our gratitude. We shall not forget your kindness.

MARIOTTE SISTER AND BROTHERS.

Alice, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Thomas McCaffrey, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, on South Webster street, after a short illness. She was a pupil of the St. Augustine's Academy and was universally liked by her companions and schoolmates. The funeral will occur Sunday at 1 p. m. from the cathedral.

Yesterday occurred the death of the sixteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Link, 114 Chicago street. The funeral will occur Sunday.

Mertel, the seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, 73 East Berry street, died this morning. The remains were shipped to Adrian, Mich., for burial.

STATE Y. M. C. A.

The Convention Auspiciously Opened at Lafayette Yesterday.

One of the largest conventions ever held in Lafayette is that of the State Y. M. C. A., which began its session yesterday afternoon. Delegates began to arrive Wednesday night and have been pouring into that city since from every direction. There will probably be between 300 and 400 delegates. The program is extensive and embraces much of interest. Among those who arrived to participate in the convention are: C. K. Oler, international secretary, of New York city; E. E. Stacey, assistant state secretary, of Indianapolis; Fletcher Humphrey, state secretary, of Indianapolis; F. H. Jacobs, general secretery, of Philadelphia. The noted evangelist, Rev. Dwight L. Moody, who will be the center of interest throughout the convention, arrived over the Monon from Chicago.

The following city associations will be represented: Brazil, Crawfordsville, Elkhart R. R., Evansville, Fort Wayne, R. R., New Albany, Richmond, South Bend.

The following college associations will be represented: Central Normal, of Danville; DePauw, of Greencastle; Earlham, of Richmond; Hanover, of Hanover; Purdue University, of Lafayette; State Normal, Terre Haute, Union Christian, of Marion, Wabash, of Crawfordsville.

The following are the cities who have representatives of prayer circles: Lafayette, Goshen, Jeffersonville, Seymour, Rockville, Shelbyville, Valparaiso, Hammond, Frankfort, Hammond-Wabash, Greensburg, North Vernon, Kokomo, and Delphi.

At the evening session the annual reports of state officers were read, from which it is learned that there are now eighteen associations in the state, with a membership of 4,139, an increase during the year of 373. There are 127 corresponding members and seventeen prayer circles. During the year there has been a decrease of one in the number of associations. In the annual report the president referred to Alexander Roberts, for a time assistant state secretary, as having kept $70 of the association's money and fled, and spoke of him as as keen and polished a scoundrel as ever breathed the breath of life. The financial report shows the association to be $1,600 in debt. After the reports were read and referred. Dwight L. Moody, the noted evangelist, delivered an address.

WILL FORCE THE WORK.

The Street Commissioner Will Be Instructed to Make Street Repairs.

Street Commissioner Dennis O'Brien will be instructed to follow in the wake of the trench diggers of the Salimonie Natural Gas Company and repair the streets wherever he deems such remedy called for. The paved streets especially will receive attention, for upon these the most irregular condition is discernible."

"If I am instructed to repair the streets," said Mr. O'Brien, "the pavements will be attended to first. I shall tear up and excavate again to the pipes and when the dirt is replaced it will be packed from bottom up."

The most serious fault seemed to hinge on this particular failure of performing the work. Many of the trenches have caved in leaving at places dangerous ruts, which are hardly anything else than pit-falls upon a dark night. The paved streets are crowded during the business hours making it quite necessary that the street proper be made free from holes and ruts to impede commercial and other travel.

If it becomes necessary for the city to make these repairs the expense of the same will fall to the Salimonie company.

SCHIEFER'S PLUM.

A Post-Tradership Apt to Fall to a Fort Wayne Man.

THE SENTINEL some time ago stated that the chances were favorable for the Indian commissioner to appoint Will D. Schiefer, of this city, to a post out west somewhere.

To-day Mr. Schiefer received a blank application which he will fill out, and will leave for Washington Saturday evening to present it to the commissioner in person.

Mr. Schiefer has been recommended for a position, and the republican allies detailed two men to go to Washington to look after his interests.

The republicans could hardly bestow the place to a man better qualified for the place.

Hon. J. M. Barrett is at Plymouth, Ind., to-day, on law business.

FRIDAY, NOV. 8, 1889

MR. FORAKER'S chances for a presidential nomination are not as brilliant as they were.

THE Indiana supreme court has decided that natural gas can be piped to points outside of the state.

THE republicans never had any reason to hope that they would be able to carry Virginia, New Jersey or Maryland, but they did expect to win in Ohio and Iowa.

THE kind of an indorsement which the administration has received in Virginia is what it might have expected when it countenanced such a demagogue as Mahone.

FIVE years ago the production of petroleum in Ohio was hardly worth mentioning. Last year the production was 10,000,000 barrels against 16,000,000 barrels for Pennsylvania, and this year it is believed that the production in Ohio will lead other states.

THE republicans are now engaged in solving the problem of the causes that led to their defeat in Ohio and Iowa. In their calculations they lose sight entirely of tariff reform, which contributed in no small degree to the result. Tariff reform is the living issue of the day and with it the democracy will again secure control in national affairs.

HON. JOS. E. MCDONALD, Indiana's ex-senator, says: "Senator Sherman, a few nights since, in his speech at the Music hall in the city of Cincinnati, referred to the fact that in his late tour abroad, he had visited many European countries, and that they had, to use his own language, all adopted the American system of protection, except free trade England—France, Germany, Russia, Belgium, Italy—all except England—but he failed to state the fact that England is shipping annually to foreign countries more products of manufacture than all other countries named by him put together, and that she is the only country in Europe that pays a decent price to her laborers; that in Europe wages are lowest in those countries where protection is highest. This may not prove that free trade necessarily increases the price of labor, but it certainly does prove that protection does not protect."

THE SITUATION IN BRIEF.

The result of Tuesday's elections, with instructive comparisons, says the Detroit Free Press, is shown by the following table:

	1888.		1889.
	Harrison.	Cleveland.	Rep.	Dem.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Indiana supreme court handed down two decisions yesterday which will create great excitement in the state, owing to the fact that they practically revolutionize the present method of selecting heads of departments and bureaus established by the general assembly. The cases decided was the one in which John Worrell (republican) as Governor Hovey's appointee, sought possession of the office of chief of the bureau of statistics now held by William A. Peele (democrat) who was appointed by the legislature, and the one in which S. T. Yancey (republican) sought possession of the office of state oil inspector, now held by Nelson A. Hyde (democrat.)

The decision also determined the suits of Professor John Collett (republican) Governor Hovey's appointee as chief of the bureau of geology and natural science, against S. S. Gorby, (democrat) who now holds the office by virtue of appointment of the legislature. In each case the majority of the court holds that the offices can legally be filled only by election, and that until a general election is held, the power to fill the offices is vested in the governor.

A peculiarity of the decision is that Chief Justice Elliott (Rep.) dissents from the opinion of the majority. The effect of the decision will be to increase the number of elective offices considerably and make an unusually long ticket to be voted for at every general election. Neither of the defendants will relinquish his office without further litigation, and the decision seems to justify the claims of each to be the duly constituted official even under the ruling of the court. The two officers whose cases were decided hold commissions from Governor Gray, and the question arises whether, in view of that circumstance, they are not legally qualified until their successors are chosen by the people. This matter will now go before the courts, the incumbents holding office until a decision is given.

INDIANA NEWS.

Our Exchange Editor Glances Over Different Parts of the State.

Ora Emmons was thrown from his horse east of Montepelier and was fatally injured.

Fire destroyed J. E. McKendry's stave and heading factory at Elwood. Loss, $5,000.

Willie Crawford, aged eight years, was thrown from a wagon at Huntington Wednesday and instantly killed.

The board of city school trustees have decided to do away with all examinations in the public schools of Crawfordsville.

Rev. S. C. Dickey was installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Peru, with much ceremony, Tuesday evening.

The Franklin city council has refused to extend the time given the local waterworks company to begin work, and the franchise will lapse December 31.

Taylor Bayles, for attempted murder, and William Meal, for stealing a chicken, were each sentenced to one year's imprisonment in Crawford county.

L. B. Pierce, justice of the peace of Hartford City, was stricken with paralysis Wednesday, and can not recover. Mr. Pierce is the father of Hon. Elisha Pierce, of that city.

Past Supreme Chancellor J. H. Rathbone, the founder of the Knights of Pythias, is very ill at the Hatfield house in Bedford. His trouble is a large carbuncle in the middle of his back.

James Luce, a prominent resident of Yorktown, Delaware county, dropped dead Tuesday afternoon, after finishing a hearty dinner at his home. It is supposed that heart trouble caused his death.

Miss Miriam Harvey, daughter of George Harvey, a leading attorney of Marion, and one of the brightest and most popular young ladies in that city, died suddenly this week, at the age of seventeen.

The Greene school house, south of Waynetown, was for the third time damaged by unknown persons on last Saturday night. This time the shutters were torn off, windows, desks and door's broken, doing damage to the amount of $100.

Two colored men, David Rivers and Tommy Strode, assaulted Mrs. Clarquist, custodian of P. E. Studebaker's residence, at South Bend, intending to put her out of the way and plunder the house. Her desperate resistance foiled them.

While Ina Watson, a twelve-year-old boy, was on a wagon loaded with household goods, moving from Balbeck to Redkey, in Jay county, the horses ran away with him, throwing him off of the wagon and injuring him so that the doctors say he will die.

Warden Patten, of the prison south, took Edward Stropes, the defaulting treasurer of Greene county, back to Bloomfield, on a mandate from the supreme court granting him a new trial. He was sentenced to serve one year, and has served out half of that time.

A bloody and almost fatal fight occurred at Knightsville Monday evening. C. A. Forcum, who has been black-legging in the Jumbo mine, was assaulted by strikers. He was struck in the mouth by a heavy cinder and rendered insensible. His assailants sprang upon him and beat him until they thought life was extinct. He lies in a dangerous condition.

The Indiana supreme court Wednesday affirmed the decision of the Jay circuit court, which holds that the act passed by the Indiana legislature forbidding the piping of Indiana natural gas beyond the limits of the state is in contravention of the letter and the spirit of the constitution of the United States.

The decision is of special importance to the city of Chicago, which is to be supplied with natural gas from this state. A company has been formed with a capital of $2,000,000, the gas territory has been secured, the surveys made and the attorney for the company states that work will be pushed at once and that the fullest success of the enterprise is beyond all doubt. The law was passed to prevent the Chicago gas trust from piping gas to Chicago. The home gas companies hoped that the court could give the law some standing by holding that foreigners might not condemn the right of way over which to pipe gas. This was their strong hope, but it comes to naught.

The Peru Sentinel says: "Miss Lou Harlan elegantly entertained a number of her lady and gentlemen friends on last Tuesday evening, in honor of her friends, Miss Laura Lightfoot, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Mattie Wiley, of Charleston, Ill., who are guests of Miss Wilbur Mitten."

The Huntington Democrat says: "A little boy and girl attempted to board the Wabash noon train, but having neither money nor tickets the train men would not carry them. The little fellow said his parents lived in Fort Wayne, that his name was Seidell, and that they had been visiting the Everdings here. They were sent back to the family."

The Jackson, Mich., Patriot has the following in relation to our fire commissioners: "Yesterday afternoon Henry Hilbrecht, chief of the fire department, with George W. Ely, L. P. Huser and P. J. Scheid, fire commissioners, of Fort Wayne, arrived in this city on a tour of inspection to the fire department, its methods and apparatus, but more particularly the chemical engines. They were shown through both engine houses by Chief Conely and commissioners Mogford and Smith, and the workings of the chemicals were thoroughly explained. The gentlemen expressed themselves as highly pleased with the courtesies shown them and stated that Jackson had one of the finest departments they had ever seen. The party has paid similar visits to the departments of Toledo and Detroit and left on the evening train for Grand Rapids, from whence they go to Muskegon and Kalamazoo."

"Held by the Enemy" is a touching story, in which pathos and comedy run hand in hand. The heart is thrilled with a noble sympathy and one's whole being is wrought up to a high pitch, when, like a cooling breeze in the summer sun, comes a shower of comedy that carries the audience away in the most happy and pleasant thoughts, while they laugh with redoubled energy and the tear-stained eyes sparkle anew with merriment. It is this wonderful interlacing of the pathetic, the patriotic and the humorous that makes the production a literary gem. The company comes to the Temple to morrow evening.

"STOP"—Nature Has a Cure.

EATON RAPIDS, Mich.
J. M. LOOSE RED CLOVER Co., Detroit:—Two years I was afflicted with a very severe attack of Erysipelas. After two physicians had used their treatment for several weeks and I continued growing blind, and in their diagnosis concluded that there was no earthly help or hope for me. I gave up, having tried all the remedies I knew or heard of. My neighbor, Mr. Miller, came in to see me one day, and said try Loose's Extract of Red Clover, as he had known of its working remarkable cures. I told him I had lost hope, that nothing would do me any good in the world. He insisted, and taking his hat went to the drug store and bought me one bottle and urged me to try it, which I did. Ten days afterward I sent for two more bottles, and it is wonderful how I improved. I continued using it and to-day I am better than I have been in years. No sign of erysipelas has shown itself and I heartily recommend it to suffering humanity as the greatest and best blood purifier in existence. Yours truly,

FUEL FOR LOCOMOTIVES.

Manufacturing It From Coal Dust--News and Gossip From the Busy Centers.

The Reading railroad officials headed by President Corbin, visited the company's coal plant at Mahanoy City, Pa., yesterday to inspect a new process of making fuel from coal dust. Heretofore about one-seventh of the coal mines has been lost in dust. It is now intended to utilize the dust by making it into bricketts that will burn like hard coal except that there is no clinkers and the brickett burns to ashes.

The new process consists of the coal dust being evenly distributed with one-tenth per cent. of pitch. This, by an ingenious contrivance, is pressed with great machines in large cakes, steam being used to moisten the mass. So hard does it become that it possesses the same power of resistance as coal, or in other words, a hundred pounds of coal dust pressed will last as long as the same amount of hard coal. A pressure of thirty-five tons is brought to bear on each brickett.

There are two presses in operation now and when run to their full capacity will turn out about 800 tons of the bricketts in twenty-four hours. The bricketts take up twenty-five per cent. less space than ordinary coal, and in consequence an engine can be loaded to go one-fourth further without replenishing the supply of fuel.

All the officials expressed themselves very much gratified by the new process, and expect the company will be enabled to save from $35,000 to $40,000 per year by the use of the fuel.

Mr. C. M. Jacobs, an expert in fuel making, has been brought from England to superintend the works. A company has been formed, with Austin as president, for manufacturing this fuel, and it is intended to place it on the market for a lower price than is now paid for coal.

TESTING AN ENGINE.

The Baltimore and Ohio company has recently received from the Baldwin locomotive works a compound engine built on the English plan.

The engine is to be given a fair trial by the Baltimore and Ohio people. If the tests prove satisfactory, the engine will be adopted, as it takes from 20 to 25 per cent. less fuel to run it than is consumed by the engines now in use on the Baltimore and Ohio.

Less coal dust is thrown from the stack, and the engine is capable of very fast time. It has already been tried on both local and express trains. In a recent run between Baltimore and Philadelphia twenty-two minutes were made up.

GOSSIP OF THE DAY.

Brakeman Willams, of the Wabash, has resigned.

Conductor Sullivan, of the Wabash, is on the sick list.

The scarcity of box cars is still apparent on every hand.

Newton Hart, brakeman on the Wabash, is on the sick list.

I. H. Reidt has taken a position at the Pittsburg machine shops.

Joseph Dwenger, of the Pittsburg machine shops, is on the sick list.

Over 125 cars of company coal is stored at the east Pittsburg yards at present.

To-morrow is pay day at the Bass foundry, Fort Wayne iron works and Kerr Murray works.

Isander White, of Harrisburg, Pa., is here on a visit, the guest of his brother, Jeff White, of White's wheel works.

Owen Barry and his force, at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, are off duty on account of repairs to the furnace.

Louise Estel, Paul Berger, and Geo. Loyd, of White's wheel works, will take a hunting trip next Sunday to Kingsland.

E. K. Stevens, of the Wabash, is running engine No. 1,187 on the Wabash during the absence of Engineer A. J. Boughton.

Brakeman J. H. Ream is with Adams on the Wabash accommodation, in place of C. E. Trowl, who has leave of absence for two weeks.

Geo. H. Freeby, oiler at the Pensylvania, and S. Mason and E. T. Carey, of the blacksmith shops, are off duty on account of sickness.

John Slater, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, is a strong republican, but he displays a rooster, nevertheless, on his forge to make his democratic friends feel good.

Conductor Tom Gleason, of the Wabash, traveled 4,953 miles on the second district during the month of October. Only forty-seven miles short of $150 for his month's wages.

Postmaster Higgins accompanied the mail carrier on his trip in the Seventh and Tenth ward district yesterday. He made the east Pittsburg yard office a pleasant call while en route.

The Vanderbilts are discarding the term "depot" in its application to the passenger business, following up the suggestion of the late Richard Grant White, that a depot is a repository for freight. It is no longer the "Grand Central depot" at New York, but "Grand Central station." Even the passenger switch engines are labeled G. C. S," instead of "G, C. D.," as formerly.

Forty loaded cars now make a freight train on the Pennsylvania road, instead of forty-five cars, as was the case during the warmer weather. The cannon ball trains haul from twenty-five to thirty-six loaded cars. In figuring on empty cars in a train, box, stock, or refrigerator cars are reckoned at two-thirds of a load, and a flat or gondola car at one-half a load. In no case is a train to have over sixty five cars.

The engineers' convetion, which was in session at Denver, Col., has adopted a very important amendment to their constitution. Heretofore when a fireman was promoted to be an engineer he could not join the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers without first resigning from the Firemen's Brotherhood, The amendment adopted allows a new engineer to join the Engineer's Brotherhood and at the same time retain his membership in the B. of L. F.

F. Slataper, consulting engineer; A. B. Starr, superintendent of the eastern division; E. B. Taylor, general superintendent; C. D. Law, superintendent of western division; Thomas Rodd, chief engineer; Thomas Jackson, assistant chief engineer; Wm. Borner, divison freight agent, and N. W. Thompson, superintendent of bridges, and other officials of the Pennsylvania company, passed through the city this morning on their way west on an inspection tour.

George W. Stevens, superintendent of the east division of the Wabash, who has resigned to take a similar position on the Chesapeake and Ohio, with headquarters at Richmond, Va., began his railroad career as a messenger boy in a Baltimore and Ohio office, Feb. 1, 1864, he then being thirteen years of age; in 1865 he went into the telegraph office and soon showed himself to be a good operator; in 1870 he went into the employ of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis road as operator and agent; in 1871 he went into the train-dispatcher's office of the road; in 1873 to the Wabash road, and for eight years was a train-dispatcher on that line; in 1881 he was appointed superintendent of the Ohio and Indiana divisions of the Wabash, and on July 1, 1883, was appointed superintendent of the eastern division of the Wabash, with headquarters at Peru, which position he now retires from.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Official Program for Their Next Biennial Session.

From the headquarters of the Uniform Rank of Knights of Pythias of the world comes the announcement of the next biennial session of the Supreme Lodge which occurs in Milwaukee on the second Tuesday of July, 1890. The following prizes are offered the Uniform Rank:

First prize—For proficiency in drill	$1,000
Second prize	800
Third	600
Fourth	500
Fifth	400
Sixth	300
Seventh	200
Eighth	100
For best division commander, A. U. R. K. P., value	100
For division traveling the longest distance from its home by the shortest route to reach Milwaukee	300
Best band	300
Second	200
Third	100

Band prize open to the world, special, for bands with not less than thirty five pieces, $200. Two entries required.

It has been decided to place the entire organization in camp. A most delightful situation has been secured where the tents will be pitched and furnished to the uniform rank free of charge. Each brigade and state will be camped separately, but all are to form one grand encampment. The entertainments to be provided for the visitors and Sir Knights will be on a much more magnificent scale than at any former biennial session of the order.

Hoagland Jots.

HOAGLAND, Nov. 6, 1889.

Mr. E. E. Jamison is out again after a brief illness.

Dr. J. Harrod, of Payne, Ohio, paid Hoagland a flying visit Sunday.

Mr. J. M. Jamison, a prominent lawyer of Grand Rapids, Mich., is visiting his parents, who reside near this place.

Miss Leah Barkley, the accomplished daughter of Mr. Jacob Barkley, is contemplating attending the musical department of the college at Findlay, Ohio.

Mr. J. L. Barkley and his accomplished wife will, as we understand, remove to Fort Wayne in the near future. They will, in all probability, engage in the music business.

A grand band concert and festival will be given under the auspices of the Hoagland cornet band at no distant date, the noticeable feature of this entertainment will be given in due time.

Mr. F. Livengood, the successful teacher of the Hoagland school, has removed to Payne, Ohio, and will assume control of the schools at the above named place. Some dissatisfaction existed in regard to his resignation here, but Mr. Livengood, evidently knows what he is doing.

AN ELOPEMENT.

A Love-sick Twain of Williamsport Run Away.

A Danville, Ill., special says: "James W. Mather and Miss Nellie James, of Williamsport, Ind., made application to day for a marriage license. The girl being but seventeen years of age, was refused a license by the county clerk. The girl says she was married to another man in Williamsport some four weeks ago, and, as she did not love the man, she went to the judge in that county and he told her she was divorced; that the marriage was null and void on account of her age. She then fell in love with Mather, and ran away to marry the man of her choice. Failing to procure a license, the couple returned home. The would-be bride of two husbands says her mother is the owner of 327 acres of land near Williamsport."

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Deputy Auditor C. J. McLain and Deputy Recorder John Heller were released from duty yesterday so that they might seek the forest and field, there to allure the quail to an untimely death. It is told that John shot a bird nine times, the bullet entering the same place each shot. The result was fatal to the bird, which Recorder Thompson will have prepared by a taxidermist and mounted in the office. The balance of the game bagged by the gentlemen may go toward a public dinner.

Dr. Wm. F. Myers returned last night from Chicago, where he attended the Illinois State Veterinary Medical association meeting and the American Horse show. He says that he saw the finest collection of horses that ever visited any prize ring. The famous horses, Axtell, Johnston, Mambrino, King and all noted horse flesh were present. He also saw the world's record of high jumping horses beaten, which was six feet, nine and a half inches, and it was raised to six feet, ten and three-quarter inches by the horses Ontario and Rosemary, both Canadians. The doctor is certainly a close observer of the equine and canine races and is a lover of those animals.

Elocution.

Miss Susie V. Dunavon, a New York elocutionist, has located in Fort Wayne for the purpose of giving instruction in that art. Miss Dunavon studied under one of Boston's best teachers, and is qualified to teach any branch of the science. She has met with marked success on the platform, as the appended notice will show. To those having weak lungs and throat the drill would be especially beneficial. Parents having awkward sons and daughters would confer a lasting benefit on them by giving them a course in the Delsarte System of Expression. Particular attention paid to making good, intelligible readers. Call at No. 58 East Wayne street.

A CHARMING ELOCUTIONIST.

Miss Dunavon is an accomplished elocutionist and the several selections recited by her, showed great natural ability developed by thorough culture. In every selection she caught the spirit of the author, and by unaffected delivery and natural dramatic expression, created a very pleasing impression on her audience. Her program embraced a wide range of literature, and she was equally successful in expressing pathos and humor. Her perfect recitation of the "Bobolink," a trying selection, fairly electrified the audience.—Daily Republican, Binghamton, N. Y.

THREE OF A KIND.

The above picture represents "three of a kind"—(well dressed gents) and yet they are not of a kind, as three distinct styles are shown. In addition to these we can also show several other equally fashionable garments, and in all styles. We can fit lean, medium or fast men. You can't help but be pleased with what we are now offering, for while these garments are equal to any tailor made clothes, they cost but a fraction of what would be charged for them were they to come out of a tailor shop.

It costs but little to be well dressed if you will but give us a chance to show you what a real fit means.

WOODRUFF WON'T TESTIFY

He Will Not Get a Chance to Tell His Fairy Tale on the Witness Stand.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Woodruff is to be disappointed again. The state's attorneys have concluded, after a great deal of argument, that he is not the sort of a witness calculated to help in so important a case as the Cronin trial and he will not be placed on the stand to rehearse the many fairy tales with which he regaled the public. The chances are that he will never be tried for anything more desperate than stealing Dinan's horse and wagon.

The Cronin trial was resumed this morning, with Captain Schnettler in the witness chair. He brought with him into court the blind taken from a window of the Carlson cottage, with the paint prints of a hand on it. The witness was cross-examined by Judge Wing.

The finger marks on the window were made with the same yellow paint with which the floor was smeared. One slat of the blind was broken.

It looked as though some one had attempted to close the blind hurriedly and had not noticed that his hand was covered with paint. Witness found in the cottage a pail or can of paint, and in it a brush. The paint had evidently been exposed to the air for some time. This paint corresponded to that on the floor. Captain Schnettler then related how he took charge of the lock and key and other articles found in the cottage.

On the redirect examination by Mr. Hynes, witness told of the conversation between O'Sullivan and Capt. Schaack, in which he (witness) took part, on May 28, in which O'Sullivan admitted the contract between him and Dr. Cronin and also that he (O'Sullivan) had telephoned Coughlin to inform him about a man named Kunze and a horse. The state's attorney this morning handed Mr. Forrest an additional list of witnesses that the state expects to summon.

O'Sullivan also admitted in this conversation that none of his men had ever been injured and that he had never been sued for damages. O'Sullivan denied positively that he was a member of the Clan-na-Gael. Captain Schnettler stated how he became possessed of the blind and told the history of the hair taken from the trunk. Witness had been given two bunches of hair; one by Dr. Egbert and the other by Captain Wing. Both of these he had given to Dr. Beifeld in the same condition that he received them. On the recross-examination by Judge Wing witness went into a detailed history of the key of the trunk.

William Neimann was then called and his evidence created quite a sensation. Neiman's story was that he is a saloon-keeper, on School street and Ashland avenue. He opened his place May 3 and that day made a contract with O'Sullivan for ice. The next evening, May 4, about 10:30 o'clock, O'Sullivan came in, accompanied by two men. They staid about a half an hour.

A MYSTERIOUS TRAMP

Dies in Ohio—May Have Had Some Connection With the Cronin Case.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 8.—A mysterious tramp died of paralysis, Thursday, at the farm house of J. M. Staley, six miles from here. He was an elderly, well educated and intelligent man, claiming to be a school teacher, but would not disclose even his name.

During his dying delirium he made many incoherent references to the Cronin trial and talked about the murder and affairs of the Clan-na-Gael. He carried with him a book pasted full of newspaper clippings in regard to the case. From what could be made out of his talk it is thought that he must have had some connection with it.

A BAD AGENT

Deserts His Wife and Takes His Employer's Money.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 8.—J. A. Shepard, of Chicago, a dealer in crayon portraits, is in Ballston looking for H. K. Chamberlain, who has been acting as his agent in this district. He claims that Chamberlain stole several hundred dollars, collected for work done by the firm. Chamberlain took many orders for portraits and spent money freely.

In September he was married, after an acquaintance of a few days, to Miss Bertha Freeman, an employe of the St. Charles hotel, in Baltimore, and after living with her three weeks, disappeared and has not been seen since. It is said that he has other wives living. Papers for his arrest are in the hands of officers.

BURGLARS' WORK.

The Residence of Mr. J. H. W. Schaefer Entered by Thieves.

Last night the residence of Mr. John H. W. Schaefer, in Bloomingdale, between High and Third streets, was entered by burglars. They first got into the kitchen through a rear window, and then, by breaking the lock of a door that led into the dining room, were enabled to gain access to other parts of the house.

In the front room Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer were sleeping, all unconscious of the presence of the slick rascals in the house. The thieves entered this room, and taking Mr. Schaefer's clothes from a chair, carried them to the kitchen, where at their leisure they rifled the pockets, securing his pocketbook, containing a $5 bill and a Holland guilder, worth about 40 cents. These they appropriated to their own use and then effected their escape, and when Mr. Schaefer awoke this morning he discovered his loss.

There is no clue to the thieves.

D. McCarty, who resides at 160 West Superior street, says thieves entered his premises last night and stole twenty-six fine specimens of poultry. Mr. McCarty runs on the Nickel Plate, and was out at the time. He says the thieves can have the chicken-coop and everything that is left if they will only come when he is at home.

A PROBABLE MURDER.

William Lepker Arrested With a Charge of Fearful Assault.

William Lepker, the man who was arrested by Officer Patton yesterday for the theft of a coat and other wearing apparel from Kraus, the truckman, and who was sentenced for one year by Judge O'Rourke, stands a chance of being re-arrested upon the expiration of his sentence, by the sheriff of Paulding county, Ohio. The charge then will probably be murder. The officer, when in the city last night, identified Lepker as being the man who assaulted and robbed a man named DeLand, at Paulding, Ohio, recently. The dastardly work was done under the cover of darkness. Lepker struck the man over the head with a stick of wood until his victim was unconscious, then he secured $25.00 and fled.

DeLand was found in the early morning, blood flowing from the numerous wounds. He is in a critical condition and may die, in which event Lepker will pay the penalty.

FELL DOWN STAIRS.

Mr. Christian Bleeke is Severely Injured—Another Accident.

Mr. Christian Bleeke is an old gentle man, eighty-nine years of age, and lives with his daughter, Mrs. William Baade, 263 East Jefferson street.

Last night he started up stairs to retire to his bed, and when about half way up the stairway fell and struck his head upon the bannister. When found within a moment afterward, he was lying at the bottom of the stairs, suffering severely from a concussion of the brain. Dr. Boswell was called and attended Mr. Bleeke's injuries, which are of such a nature as to confine him to his bed. His extreme age is against his recovery.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Ruhl, in ascending with the elevator at the Centlivre brewery, caught his right foot between the car and floor and the limb was almost pulled from the ankle joint. As it was it was fearfully crushed and his ankle joint was fractured.

Dr. George L. Greenawalt attends him.

THEY WILL FIGHT.

A Prize Fight Arranged for To-morrow Night at Sheldon.

To-morrow night a crowd of sports will leave this city for Sheldon, where a prize fight has been arranged to take place between Fred Greenberg and Ally York, two well-known pugilists of this city. Greenberg is employed at the Fort Wayne Organ Factory and has been engaged in a number of sparring matches in this city and elsewhere.

York is a good boxer and his friends say he can whip Greenburg. The men will fight with bare knuckles, for a purse of $100, if the authorities do not interfere.

Such encounters are a disgrace to a civilized community, and it is to be hoped the officers will intercept the pugilists and prevent them from fighting. This article is a free advertisement for the pugilists and a notice to the officers that such a mill has been arranged.

Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—For Indiana: Heavy rain; cooler; variable winds.

SNOW STORMS!

A Fearful One Raging in New Mexico, and Death and Suffering is the Result.

CLAYTON, N. M., Nov. 8.—Unless the snowstorm, which has been raging for eight days, comes to an end soon, next summer will show a country covered with the dead bodies of animals as thickly as was the old Santa Fe trail in the sixties. The depth of snow is now not less than twenty-six inches on the level, and in many places it has drifted seven feet high. When the storm struck this section seven large herds of cattle, numbering from four hundred to two thousand, were being held near this place, awaiting shipment to eastern markets.

The rain of a week ago Wednesday was followed Thursday morning by blizzards of snow and sleet, which sent the herds in a southerly direction. In vain did the cowboys try to check the march of the herds. On they went through the increasing storm until, finding it utterly impossible to hold the cattle, the boys rode aside and let them pass, and, nearly dead, rode their exhausted horses into canons or partially sheltered places, where they passed many hours in misery without food or fire.

Two cowboys drifted in a canon, where they found a cedar tree with a rat's nest in it. They managed to light a fire with this. During the second night one of their horses died from cold and having nothing to eat, the men cut pieces of flesh from the dead animal, which they warmed and ate. After remaining there sixty hours they started out and, after much suffering and hardship from their weakened condition, managed to reach a ranch thirty miles away, where they were cared for.

Five cow men are known to have frozen to death. Henry Miller, John Martin, Charles Jolly, and two whose names are unknown. Two Mexican sheep herders have been found frozen to death. Two men coming in yesterday morning report drifts in some places seven and eight feet high, in which are hundreds of dead stock. Whole herds of sheep are completely wiped out of existence, and the range for thirty miles is covered with their carcasses.

It is estimated that 20,000 sheep have perished in this part of the territory. At present it is impossible to closely estimate the number of cattle lost, but it will probably be up in the thousands. Every place of shelter in town is being used as barns for snow-bound horses. The hay supply is nearly exhausted and to-day $100 per ton was offered by a stockman and refused.

At Textline, nine miles below Clayton, two passenger trains have been snowbound for a week. Provisions are running out and passengers are compelled to venture out in the storm to kill cattle, the quarters of which are taken into the cars and roasted. It is thought a snow plow will reach the imprisoned trains to-day and release them. The storm is by far the worst ever known in New Mexico and the exact loss of life and property cannot at present be estimated.

MONTANA IS ALL RIGHT.

The State Counted for the Democrats and Admitted to the Union.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 8.—The Silver Bow mandamus case was finished yesterday, Judge DeWolfe denying the right of the minority of the board of canvassers to appeal from the order of the court directing the canvassers to count the vote of the Tunnel precinct. The court issued a mandatory order, and Hall and Irvin counted the vote of the disputed district for McHatten, democrat. This action also covers the legislative contest, and by it the democrats secure ten of the eleven members of the Silver Bow delegation.

This gives the state and the legislature to the Democrats, insuring them the United States senators.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The president has issued a proclamation admitting Montana to statehood.

THE ELECTIONS.

Result in Ohio and Iowa—The Latter's Legislature is Republican.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—The indications now are, on figures received at republican and democratic headquarters, that the republicans will elect all the candidates on the state ticket with the exception of Campbell, and possibly lieutenant-governor.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 8.—The revised figures at the Register office give Boies for governor 4,790 plurality, and indicate the probable election of all the republican state ticket except governor.

Additional returns on the legislative ticket show that the republican majority on joint ballot will be eight.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Attorney W. H. Shambaugh is having his office rooms in the Bank Block enlarged.

Master Johnnie, son of Mr. Frank Parent, of Walton avenue, is very low with fever.

Those to participate in the Kirmiss to be given by the Trinity Episcopal church will meet at Arion hall to-night.

Mrs. Kruse, wife of ex-Policeman Kruse, of Lafayette, is visiting her uncle, Mr. Carpenter, the feed yard proprietor.

Mr. Frank Baker has gone into the apple commission business for outside revenue. He attends to other business the same as ever.

H. D. Goodrich, Grand Rapids; C. W. Robinson, Detroit; H. G. Boon, B. T. Steiner, Cleveland, are among the guests of the Rich.

The city authorities should see that the electric lights are burning earlier in the evening. Last night about 6 o'clock it was very dark all over the city.

Miss Alice McCaffery, of 261 South Webster street, died last evening, of heart disease. Funeral Sunday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, from the Cathedral.

Mr. E. A. Stimson, of Dayton, Ohio, the contractor who put down the wells for the water works supply, is in the city to complete the final details of his contract.

Mr. Frank Fee discovered and extinguished an incipient blaze in the bicycle club rooms last evening, preventing what might have been a serious conflagration.

Mrs. Adam Kuntz, of Nebraska, the woman who underwent an operation a few weeks ago, is pronounced out of danger by her physicians, Drs. A. J. and A. C. Boswell.

Last evening a large party of friends surprised Mrs. Dr. Martz, of 25 West Jefferson street, on the occasion of her twenty-fifth birthday. The evening passed very enjoyably.

Judge Taylor went to Indianapolis to-day to appear for the plaintiffs in the suit of Bass & Simons vs. the City of Fort Wayne, involving the right to condemn the Rudisill pool for water purposes.

Last evening Dr. H. S. Myers was called to the Lake Shore depot to attend a young hospital nurse, of the City hospital, named Abbe. The young woman seemed to be under the influence of morphine.

Mr. W. G. Evans, more popularly known as "Wig," has been promoted from a position in the house of Carnahan & Co., to traveling salesman. He left west on the Fort Wayne road this morning on his maiden trip.

Architect H. W. Matson is preparing plans for a hotel to be built on Cass street by J. B. Lassus, the restaurant keeper. The house will be of frame and will be located at the Muncie crossing. It will have twenty rooms.

General Manager Hays, General Supt. Magee, and Division Supt. Stevens passed through the city this morning, en route to St. Louis, on inspection, and to turn over Supt. Stevens' office to the new official, E. A. Gould.

Mr. R. G. Thompson, local passenger agent of the Wabash, received a telegram this morning announcing the sad news of his mother's death at Reading, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will leave to-night for Reading to attend the funeral.

There will be a meeting at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, in the Y. M. C. A. building, to hear reports from the churches taking part in the coming Y. M. C. A. fair. All members of the Ladies' auxiliary and all ladies interested in the Y. M. C. A. are invited to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Zarbaugh gave a very pleasant reception at the new parsonage of the Grace church last evening. A large number were present, and a delightful repast was served to the visitors by the ladies of the church. The guests were received from 5 until 10 o'clock. The new parsonage adjoins the church on East Washington street.

The hall at the City department, Y. M. C. A., was crowded last evening, to hear the McGibbeny family. Every one seemed to thoroughly enjoy the entertainment. The City department is to be congratulated on its success. It is to be hoped that this is only the beginning of good entertainments to be given there, and that the audiences may not grow less.

A HORRIBLE MURDER!

An Insane Man Kills Two Persons and Fatally Wounds Four Others With a Knife.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 8.—A butchery, probably the work of an insane man, occurred Wednesday at Bayou Boeuf, La., in which two men were killed and four desperately wounded.

Quite a number of people had gathered at a hamlet to attend a "wake." Among those was Leon Thibodeaux, who was standing on the railroad platform. A stranger approached Mr. Thibodeaux and slapped him familiarly on the back. Mr. Thibodeaux remonstrated with the man, who, for answer, drew a long knife and plunged it into Thibodeaux's back and neck.

His brother, Neil Thibodeaux, ran to his assistance, and was also met by the stranger's knife which was thrust into his throat, partly severing one of the arteries, and causing him to fall to the ground from loss of blood. Meanwhile, Leon Thibodeaux had succeeded in drawing his revolver and fired one shot at his assailant without hurting him. Melas Thibodeaux, a cousin of the wounded men then ran to their assistance to be met in his turn with the knife dripping with blood of his relatives. In an instant, it had been plunged into his back and side, inflicting two ugly wounds.

Frank Pennison ran to the aid of the wounded men. The stranger plunged the knife into Pennison's heart. The poor fellow fell over and died almost without a groan. The stranger then sprang upon Josh Morrison, a one-armed employe of the railroad. Morrison made a gallant fight and succeeded in knocking down the murderer several times before he fell himself, with ten cuts on his person. The murderer, apparently satisfied with his work, then ran to the bayou and stepping into a skiff, pushed off into the stream. Mr. Anchoin pursued him, and after firing several shots, struck the murderer, who tumbled into the bayou and sank out of sight.

GEORGE EWING, III.

He Is Given a Set-Back in His Suits to Recover Property.

George W. Ewing the third, of this city, has been given a set-back in his endeavor to wrest property valued at several hundred thousand dollars from parties in St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, and other cities. Ewing is laying claim to the original estate of his father who executed a trust deed conveying the property to George Ewing, sr. George, sr., afterward deeded the property back, but stipulated that the estate should descend to the legal representatives of George, jr. Subsequently George, jr., disposed of the property and made away with the proceeds. The first trial of the numerous suits in the case was made in the Wabash circuit court, and Judge Comer holds that there is insufficient cause for action. Ewing's lawyers have amended the complaint and will submit additional facts. A portion of the estate is in this city.

A Card of Thanks.

To the friends and neighbors who so kindly helped to lessen the burden of grief and shared with us the sorrows of distress, we return our sincere thanks. Those who have lost a mother will know how to measure our gratitude. We shall not forget your kindness.

MARIOTTE SISTER AND BROTHERS.

Alice, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Thomas McCaffrey, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, on South Webster street, after a short illness. She was a pupil of the St. Augustine's Academy and was universally liked by her companions and schoolmates. The funeral will occur Sunday at 1 p. m. from the cathedral.

Yesterday occurred the death of the sixteen-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Link, 114 Chicago street. The funeral will occur Sunday.

Mertel, the seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, 73 East Berry street, died this morning. The remains were shipped to Adrian, Mich., for burial.

STATE Y. M. C. A.

The Convention Auspiciously Opened at Lafayette Yesterday.

One of the largest conventions ever held in Lafayette is that of the State Y. M. C. A., which began its session yesterday afternoon. Delegates began to arrive Wednesday night and have been pouring into that city since from every direction. There will probably be between 300 and 400 delegates. The program is extensive and embraces much of interest. Among those who arrived to participate in the convention are: C. K. Ober, international secretary, of New York city; E. B. Sharey, assistant state secretary, of Indianapolis; Fletcher Humphrey, state secretary, of Indianapolis; F. H. Jacobs, general secretary, of Philadelphia. The noted evangelist, Rev. Dwight L. Moody, who will be the center of interest throughout the convention, arrived over the Monon from Chicago.

The following city associations will be represented: Brazil, Crawfordsville, Elkhart R. R., Evansville, Fort Wayne, R. R., New Albany, Richmond, South Bend.

The following college associations will be represented: Central Normal, of Danville; DePauw, of Greencastle; Earlham, of Richmond; Hanover, of Hanover; Purdue University, of Lafayette; State Normal, Terre Haute. Union Christian, of Merom, Wabash, of Crawfordsville.

The following are the cities who have representatives of prayer circles: Lafayette, Goshen, Jeffersonville, Seymour, Rockville, Shelbyville, Valparaiso, Hammond, Frankfort, Hammond-Wabash, Greensburg, North Vernon, Kokomo, and Delphi.

At the evening session the annual reports of state officers were read, from which it is learned that there are now eighteen associations in the state, with a membership of 4,139, an increase during the year of 373. There are 127 corresponding members and seventeen prayer circles. During the year there has been a decrease of one in the number of associations. In the annual report the president referred to Alexander Roberts, for a time assistant state secretary, as having kept $70 of the association's money and fled, and spoke of him as as keen and polished a scoundrel as ever breathed the breath of life. The financial report shows the association to be $1,600 in debt. After the reports were read and referred, Dwight L. Moody, the noted evangelist, delivered an address.

WILL FORCE THE WORK.

The Street Commissioner Will Be Instructed to Make Street Repairs.

Street Commissioner Dennis O'Brien will be instructed to follow in the wake of the trench diggers of the Salimonie Natural Gas Company and repair the streets wherever he deems such remedy called for. The paved streets especially will receive attention, for upon these the most irregular condition is discernible.

"If I am instructed to repair the streets," said Mr. O'Brien, "the pavements will be attended to first. I shall tear up and excavate again to the pipes and when the dirt is replaced it will be packed from bottom up."

The most serious fault seemed to hinge on this particular failure of performing the work. Many of the trenches have caved in leaving at places dangerous ruts, which are hardly anything else than pit-falls upon a dark night. The paved streets are crowded during the business hours making it quite necessary that the street proper be made free from holes and ruts to impede commercial and other travel.

If it becomes necessary for the city to make these repairs the expense of the same will fall to the Salimonie company.

SCHIEFER'S PLUM.

A Post-Tradership Apt to Fall to a Fort Wayne Man.

The SENTINEL some time ago stated that the chances were favorable for the Indian commissioner to appoint Will D. Schiefer, of this city, to a post out west somewhere.

To-day Mr. Schiefer received a blank application which he will fill out, and will leave for Washington Saturday evening to present it to the commissioner in person.

Mr. Schiefer has been recommended for a position, and the republican allies detailed two men to go to Washington to look after his interests.

The republicans could hardly bestow the place to a man better qualified for the place.

Hon. J. M. Barrett is at Plymouth, Ind., to-day, on law business.

FRIDAY, NOV. 8, 1889

MR. FORAKER'S chances for a presidential nomination are not as brilliant as they were.

THE Indiana supreme court has decided that natural gas can be piped to points outside of the state.

THE republicans never had any reason to hope that they would be able to carry Virginia, New Jersey or Maryland, but they did expect to win in Ohio and Iowa.

THE kind of an indorsement which the administration has received in Virginia is what it might have expected when it countenanced such a demagogue as Mahone.

FIVE years ago the production of petroleum in Ohio was hardly worth mentioning. Last year the production was 10,000,000 barrels against 16,000,000 barrels for Pennsylvania, and this year it is believed that the production in Ohio will lead other states.

THE republicans are now engaged in solving the problem of the causes that led to their defeat in Ohio and Iowa. In their calculations they lose sight entirely of tariff reform, which contributed in no small degree to the result. Tariff reform is the living issue of the day and with it the democracy will again secure control in national affairs.

HON. JOS. E. MCDONALD, Indiana's ex-senator, says: "Senator Sherman, a few nights since, in his speech at the Music hall in the city of Cincinnati, referred to the fact that in his late tour abroad, he had visited many European countries, and that they had, to use his own language, all adopted the American system of protection, except free trade England France, Germany, Russia, Belgium, Italy—all except England—but he failed to state the fact that England is shipping annually to foreign countries more products of manufacture than all other countries named by him put together, and that she is the only country in Europe that pays a decent price to her laborers; that in Europe wages are lowest in those countries where protection is highest. This may not prove that free trade necessarily increases the price of labor, but it certainly does prove that protection does not protect."

THE SITUATION IN BRIEF.

The result of Tuesday's elections, with instructive comparisons, says the Detroit Free Press, is shown by the following table:

	1888.		1889.
	Harrison.	Cleveland.	Rep.	Dem.
Ohio	19,0??	......	......	10,000

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Indiana supreme court handed down two decisions yesterday which will create great excitement in the state, owing to the fact that they practically revolutionize the present method of selecting heads of departments and bureaus established by the general assembly. The cases decided was the one in which John Worrell (republican) as Governor Hovey's appointee, sought possession of the office of chief of the bureau of statistics now held by William A. Peele (democrat) who was appointed by the legislature, and the one in which S. T. Yancey (republican) sought possession of the office of state oil inspector, now held by Nelson A. Hyde (democrat.)

The decision also determined the suits of Professor John Collett (republican) Governor Hovey's appointee as chief of the bureau of geology and natural science, against S. S. Gorby, (democrat) who now holds the office by virtue of appointment of the legislature. In each case the majority of the court holds that the offices can legally be filled only by election, and that until a general election is held, the power to fill the offices is vested in the governor.

A peculiarity of the decision is that Chief Justice Elliott (Rep.) dissents from the opinion of the majority. The effect of the decision will be to increase the number of elective offices considerably and make an unusually long ticket to be voted for at every general election. Neither of the defendants will relinquish his office without further litigation, and the decision seems to justify the claims of each to be the duly constituted official even under the ruling of the court. The two officers whose cases were decided hold commissions from Governor Gray, and the question arises whether, in view of that circumstance, they are not legally qualified until their successors are chosen by the people. This matter will now go before the courts, the incumbents holding office until a decision is given.

Our Exchange Editor Glances Over Different Parts of the State.

Ora Emmons was thrown from his horse east of Montepelier and was fatally injured.

Fire destroyed J. E. McKendry's stave and heading factory at Elwood. Loss, $5,000.

Willie Crawford, aged eight years, was thrown from a wagon at Huntington Wednesday and instantly killed.

The board of city school trustees have decided to do away with all examinations in the public schools of Crawfordsville.

Rev. S. C. Dickey was installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Peru, with much ceremony, Tuesday evening.

The Franklin city council has refused to extend the time given the local water-works company to begin work, and the franchise will lapse December 31.

Taylor Bayles, for attempted murder, and William Meal, for stealing a chicken, were each sentenced to one year's imprisonment in Crawford county.

L. B. Pierce, justice of the peace of Hartford City, was stricken with paralysis Wednesday, and can not recover. Mr. Pierce is the father of Hon. Elisha Pierce, of that city.

Past Supreme Chancellor J. H. Rathbone, the founder of the Knights of Pythias, is very ill at the Hatfield house in Bedford. His trouble is a large carbuncle in the middle of his back.

James Luce, a prominent resident of Yorktown, Delaware county, dropped dead Tuesday afternoon, after finishing a hearty dinner at his home. It is supposed that heart trouble caused his death.

Miss Miriam Harvey, daughter of George Harvey, a leading attorney of Marion, and one of the brightest and most popular young ladies in that city, died suddenly this week, at the age of seventeen.

The Greene school house, south of Waynetown, was for the third time damaged by unknown persons on last Saturday night. This time the shutters were torn off, windows, desks and door's broken, doing damage to the amount of $100.

Two colored men, David Rivers and Tommy Strode, assaulted Mrs. Clarquist, custodian of P. E. Studebaker's residence, at South Bend, intending to put her out of the way and plunder the house. Her desperate resistance foiled them.

While Ina Watson, a twelve-year-old boy, was on a wagon loaded with household goods, moving from Balbeck to Redkey, in Jay county, the horses ran away with him, throwing him off of the wagon and injuring him so that the doctors say he will die.

Warden Patten, of the prison south, took Edward Stropes, the defaulting treasurer of Greene county, back to Bloomfield, on a mandate from the supreme court granting him a new trial. He was sentenced to serve one year, and has served out half of that time.

A bloody and almost fatal fight occurred at Knightsville Monday evening. C. A. Forcum, who has been black-legging in the Jumbo mine, was assaulted by strikers. He was struck in the mouth by a heavy cinder and rendered insensible. His assailants sprang upon him and beat him until they thought life was extinct. He lies in a dangerous condition.

The Indiana supreme court Wednesday affirmed the decision of the Jay circuit court, which holds that the act passed by the Indiana legislature forbidding the piping of Indiana natural gas beyond the limits of the state is in contravention of the letter and the spirit of the constitution of the United States.

The decision is of special importance to the city of Chicago, which is to be supplied with natural gas from this state. A company has been formed with a capital of $2,000,000, the gas territory has been secured, the surveys made and the attorney for the company states that work will be pushed at once and that the fullest success of the enterprise is beyond all doubt. The law was passed to prevent the Chicago gas trust from piping gas to Chicago. The home gas companies hoped that the court could give the law some standing by holding that foreigners might not condemn the right of way over which to pipe gas. This was their strong hope, but it comes to naught.

The little fellow said his parents lived in Fort Wayne, that his name was Seidell, and that they had been visiting the Everdings here. They were sent back to the family."

The Jackson, Mich., Patriot has the following in relation to our fire commissioners: "Yesterday afternoon Henry Hilbrecht, chief of the fire department, with George W. Ely, L. P. Huser and P. J. Scheid, fire commissioners, of Fort Wayne, arrived in this city on a tour of inspection to the fire department, its methods and apparatus, but more particularly the chemical engines. They were shown through both engine houses by Chief Conely and commissioners Mogford and Smith, and the workings of the chemicals were thoroughly explained. The gentlemen expressed themselves as highly pleased with the courtesies shown them and stated that Jackson had one of the finest departments they had ever seen. The party has paid similar visits to the departments of Toledo and Detroit and left on the evening train for Grand Rapids, from whence they go to Muskegon and Kalamazoo."

"Held by the Enemy" is a touching story, in which pathos and comedy run hand in hand. The heart is thrilled with a noble sympathy and one's whole being is wrought up to a high pitch, when, like a cooling breeze in the summer sun, comes a shower of comedy that carries the audience away in the most happy and pleasant thoughts, while they laugh with redoubled energy and the tear-stained eyes sparkle anew with merriment. It is this wonderful interlacing of the pathetic, the patriotic and the humorous that makes the production a literary gem. The company comes to the Temple to morrow evening.

EATON RAPIDS, Mich.

J. M. LOOSE RED CLOVER CO., Detroit:—Two years I was afflicted with a very severe attack of Erysipelas. After two physicians had used their treatment for several weeks and I continued growing blind, and in their diagnosis concluded that there was no earthly help or hope for me. I gave up, having tried all the remedies I knew or heard of. My neighbor, Mr. Miller, came in to see me one day, and said try Loose's Extract of Red Clover, as he had known of its working remarkable cures. I told him I had lost hope, that nothing would do me any good in the world. He insisted, and taking his hat went to the drug store and bought me one bottle and urged me to try it, which I did. Ten days afterward I sent for two more bottles, and it is wonderful how I improved. I continued using it and to-day I am better than I have been in years. No sign of erysipelas has shown itself and I heartily recommend it to suffering humanity as the greatest and best blood purifier in existence. Yours truly,

FUEL FOR LOCOMOTIVES.

Manufacturing It From Coal Dust—News and Gossip From the Busy Centers.

The Reading railroad officials headed by President Corbin, visited the company's coal plant at Mahanoy City, Pa., yesterday to inspect a new process of making fuel from coal dust. Heretofore about one-seventh of the coal mines has been lost in dust. It is now intended to utilize the dust by making it into brickets that will burn like hard coal except that there is no clinkers and the brickett burns to ashes.

The new process consists of the coal dust being evenly distributed with one-tenth per cent. of pitch. This, by an ingenious contrivance, is pressed with great machines in large cakes, steam being used to moisten the mass. So hard does it become that it possesses the same power of resistance as coal, or in other words, a hundred pounds of coal dust pressed will last as long as the same amount of hard coal. A pressure of thirty-five tons is brought to bear on each brickett.

There are two presses in operation now and when run to their full capacity will turn out about 800 tons of the bricketts in twenty-four hours. The bricketts take up twenty-five per cent. less space than ordinary coal, and in consequence an engine can be loaded to go one-fourth further without replenishing the supply of fuel.

All the officials expressed themselves very much gratified by the new process, and expect the company will be enabled to save from $35,000 to $40,000 per year by the use of the fuel.

Mr. C. M. Jacobs, an expert in fuel making, has been brought from England to superintend the works. A company has been formed, with Austin as president, for manufacturing this fuel, and it is intended to place it on the market for a lower price than is now paid for coal.

TESTING AN ENGINE.

The Baltimore and Ohio company has recently received from the Baldwin locomotive works a compound engine built on the English plan.

The engine is to be given a fair trial by the Baltimore and Ohio people. If the tests prove satisfactory, the engine will be adopted, as it takes from 20 to 25 per cent. less fuel to run it than is consumed by the engines now in use on the Baltimore and Ohio.

Less coal dust is thrown from the stack, and the engine is capable of very fast time. It has already been tried on both local and express trains. In a recent run between Baltimore and Philadelphia twenty-two minutes were made up.

—GOSSIP OF THE DAY.

Brakeman Willams, of the Wabash, has resigned.

Conductor Sullivan, of the Wabash, is on the sick list.

The scarcity of box cars is still apparent on every hand.

Newton Hart, brakeman on the Wabash, is on the sick list.

I. H. Reidt has taken a position at the Pittsburg machine shops.

Joseph Dwenger, of the Pittsburg machine shops, is on the sick list.

Over 125 cars of company coal is stored at the east Pittsburg yards at present.

To-morrow is pay day at the Bass foundry, Fort Wayne iron works and Kerr Murray works.

Isander White, of Harrisburg, Pa., is here on a visit, the guest of his brother, Jeff White, of White's wheel works.

Owen Barry and his force, at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, are off duty on account of repairs to the furnace.

Louise Estel, Paul Berger, and Geo. Loyd, of White's wheel works, will take a hunting trip next Sunday to Kingsland.

E. K. Stevens, of the Wabash, is running engine No. 1,187 on the Wabash during the absence of Engineer A. J. Boughton.

Brakeman J. H. Ream is with Adams on the Wabash accommodation, in place of C. E. Trowl, who has leave of absence for two weeks.

Geo. H. Freeby, oiler at the Pensylvania, and S. Mason and E. T. Carey, of the blacksmith shops, are off duty on account of sickness.

John Sloter, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops, is a strong republican, but he displays a rooster, nevertheless, on his forge to make his democratic friends feel good.

Conductor Tom Gleason, of the Wabash, traveled 4,953 miles on the second district during the month of October. Only forty-seven miles short of $150 for his month's wages.

Postmaster Higgins accompanied the mail carrier on his trip in the Seventh and Tenth ward district yesterday. He made the east Pittsburg yard office a pleasant call while en route.

The Vanderbilts are discarding the term "depot" in its application to the passenger business, following up the suggestion of the late Richard Grant White, that a depot is a repository for freight. It is no longer the "Grand Central depot" at New York, but "Grand Central station." Even the passenger switch engines are labeled G. C. S," instead of "G. C. D.," as formerly.

Forty loaded cars now make a freight train on the Pennsylvania road, instead of forty-five cars, as was the case during the warmer weather. The cannon ball trains haul from twenty-five to thirty-six loaded cars. In figuring on empty cars in a train, box, stock, or refrigerator cars are reckoned at two-thirds of a load, and a flat or gondola car at one-half a load. In no case is a train to have over sixty five cars.

The engineers' convetion, which was in session at Denver, Col., has adopted a very important amendment to their constitution. Heretofore when a fireman was promoted to be an engineer he could not join the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers without first resigning from the Firemen's Brotherhood. The amendment adopted allows a new engineer to join the Engineer's Brotherhood and at the same time retain his membership in the B. of L. F.

F. Slataper, consulting engineer; A. B. Starr, superintendent of the eastern division; E. B. Taylor, general superintendent; C. D. Law, superintendent of western division; Thomas Rodd, chief engineer; Thomas Jackson, assistant chief engineer; Wm. Borner, divison freight agent, and N. W. Thompson, superintendent of bridges, and other officials of the Pennsylvania company, passed through the city this morning on their way west on an inspection tour.

George W. Stevens, superintendent of the east division of the Wabash, who has resigned to take a similar position on the Chesapeake and Ohio, with headquarters at Richmond, Va., began his railroad career as a messenger boy in a Baltimore and Ohio office, Feb. 1, 1864, he then being thirteen years of age; in 1865 he went into the telegraph office and soon showed himself to be a good operator; in 1870 he went into the employ of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis road as operator and agent; in 1871 he went into the train-dispatcher's office of the road; in 1873 to the Wabash road, and for eight years was a train-dispatcher on that line; in 1881 he was appointed superintendent of the Ohio and Indiana divisions of the Wabash, and on July 1, 1883, was appointed superintendent of the eastern division of the Wabash, with headquarters at Peru, which position he now retires from.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Official Program for Their Next Biennial Session.

From the headquarters of the Uniform Rank of Knights of Pythias of the world comes the announcement of the next biennial session of the Supreme Lodge which occurs in Milwaukee on the second Tuesday of July, 1890. The following prizes are offered the Uniform Rank:

First prize—For proficiency in drill	$1,000
Second prize	800
Third	600
Fourth	500
Fifth	400
Sixth	300
Seventh	200
Eighth	100
For best division commander, A. U. R. K. P., value	100
For division traveling the longest distance from its home by the shortest route to reach Milwaukee	500
Best band	300
Second	200
Third	100

Band prize open to the world, special, for bands with not less than thirty five pieces, $200. Two entries required.

It has been decided to place the entire organization in camp. A most delightful situation has been secured where the tents will be pitched and furnished to the uniform rank free of charge. Each brigade and state will be camped separately, but all are to form one grand encampment. The entertainments to be provided for the visitors and Sir Knights will be on a much more magnificent scale than at any former biennial session of the order.

Hoagland Jots.

HOAGLAND, Nov. 6, 1889.

Mr. E. E. Jamison is out again after a brief illness.

Dr. J. Harrod, of Payne, Ohio, paid Hoagland a flying visit Sunday.

Mr. J. M. Jamison, a prominent lawyer of Grand Rapids, Mich., is visiting his parents, who reside near this place.

Miss Leoh Barkley, the accomplished daughter of Mr. Jacob Barkley, is contemplating attending the musical department of the college at Findlay, Ohio.

Mr. J. L. Barkley and his accomplished wife will, as we understand, remove to Fort Wayne in the near future. They will, in all probability, engage in the music business.

A grand band concert and festival will be given under the auspices of the Hoagland cornet band at no distant date, the noticeable feature of this entertainment will be given in due time.

Mr. F. Livengood, the successful teacher of the Hoagland school, has removed to Payne, Ohio, and will assume control of the schools at the above named place. Some dissatisfaction existed in regard to his resignation here, but Mr. Livengood, evidently knows what he is doing.

A Danville, Ill., special says: "James W. Mather and Miss Nellie James, of Williamsport, Ind., made application to day for a marriage license. The girl being but seventeen years of age, was refused a license by the county clerk. The girl says she was married to another man in Williamsport some four weeks ago, and, as she did not love the man, she went to the judge in that county and he told her she was divorced; that the marriage was null and void on account of her age. She then fell in love with Mather, and ran away to marry the man of her choice. Failing to procure a license, the couple returned home. The would-be bride of two husbands says her mother is the owner of 327 acres of land near Williamsport."

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

ABOUT GLOVES.

When you are buying gloves remember that there is such a thing as a price that is too cheap. It is better to pay a fair price and get good gloves like Hutchinson's. They are made from selected skins in the best manner and are warranted to be the most serviceable made. If you want to know more about gloves in general and Hutchinson's Gloves in particular, enclose stamp for the book About Gloves. It will interest you. Est. 1862.

Deputy Auditor C. J. McLain and Deputy Recorder John Heller were released from duty yesterday so that they might seek the forest and field, there to allure the quail to an untimely death. It is told that John shot a bird nine times, the bullet entering the same place each shot. The result was fatal to the bird, which Recorder Thompson will have prepared by a taxidermist and mounted in the office. The balance of the game bagged by the gentlemen may go toward a public dinner.

Dr. Wm. F. Myers returned last night from Chicago, where he attended the Illinois State Veterinary Medical association meeting and the American Horse show. He says that he saw the finest collection of horses that ever visited any prize ring. The famous horses, Axtell, Johnston, Mambrino, King and all noted horse flesh were present. He also saw the world's record of high jumping horses beaten, which was six feet, nine and a half inches, and it was raised to six feet, ten and three-quarter inches by the horses Ontario and Rosemary, both Canadians. The doctor is certainly a close observer of the equine and canine races and is a lover of those animals.

Elocution.

Miss Susie V. Dunavon, a New York elocutionist, has located in Fort Wayne for the purpose of giving instruction in that art. Miss Dunavon studied under one of Boston's best teachers, and is qualified to teach any branch of the science. She has met with marked success on the platform, as the appended notice will show. To those having weak lungs and throat the drill would be especially beneficial. Parents having awkward sons and daughters would confer a lasting benefit on them by giving them a course in the Delsarte System of Expression. Particular attention paid to making good, intelligible readers. Call at No. 68 East Wayne street.

A CHARMING ELOCUTIONIST.

Miss Dunavon is an accomplished elocutionist and the several selections recited by her, showed great natural ability developed by thorough culture. In every selection she caught the spirit of the author, and by unaffected delivery and natural dramatic expression, created a very pleasing impression on her audience. Her program embraced a wide range of literature, and she was equally successful in expressing pathos and humor. Her perfect recitation of the "Bobolink," a trying selection, fairly electrified the audience.—Daily Republican, Binghamton, N. Y.

THE C.O.D.

THREE OF A KIND.

The above picture represents "three of a kind"—(well dressed gents) and yet they are not of a kind, as three distinct styles are shown. In addition to these we can also show several other equally fashionable garments, and in all styles. We can fit lean, medium or fast men. You can't help but be pleased with what we are now offering, for while these garments are equal to any tailor made clothes, they cost but a fraction of what would be charged for them were they to come out of a tailor shop.

It costs but little to be well dressed if you will but give us a chance to show you what a real fit means.
